Lash Nazi Oil Plants

. . . Port Of Brest Given Another Heavy Pounding

LONDON, Aug. 26—(AP)—Nearly 1,000 U. S. Flying Fortresses and Liberators carried the smashing new aerial offensive against Europe through the third straight day today, most of them battering oil targets in Germany.

Others dealt the besieged Brittany port of Brest its third pounding in 36 hours.

Up to 750 heavy bombers with as many escorting fighters ranged over northwest and southwest Germany in a third consecutive blow at Hitler's oil plants.

Follow British Assaults.

The daylight blows followed overnight operations in France and Germany by 1,400 RAF bombers, and 6,450 flights Friday from British and French bases.

Targets today included the Scholvan-Buer and Nordstern synthetic oil plants at Gelsenkirchen, an oil refinery at Emmerich near the Dutch border, an oil finishing plant at Salzbergen west of Osnabruck, and synthetic oil facilities at Lud-

Bulgaria Orders All Nazis Out

. . . Or Be Disarmed

LONDON, Aug. 26—(AP)—Bulgaria has ordered withdrawal of all German troops from Bulgarian soil, and told the Germans they will be disarmed if they don't leave, Moscow radio declared tonight.

Nazis Leave Sofia.

LONDON, Aug. 26—(AP)—The Ankara radio today said the German army had left Sofia, capital of Bulgaria, and that the only Germans left there were two liaison officers.

Armistice Expected.

NEW YORK, Aug. 26—(INS)—Radio Nacional of Spain said today that Bulgaria was expected to be out of the war "in a few hours" and that "new diplomatic victory over the reich has taken place."

The Spanish broadcast, reported by the FCC, said negotiations in Turkey between Bulgarian representatives, British Ambassador Sir Hugh Knatchbull-Hugessen and American Ambassador Laurence Steinhardt were "nearing an end" and that "an armistice will be signed shortly."

"Thanks to some authorized hints," the Spanish radio said, "certain observers" were said to have described the Bulgarian peace terms as "magnanimous."

Bucharest Firmly Held.

(By the Associated Press.)

LONDON, Aug. 26—The new Romanian government has snatched its capital firmly from German control, Moscow announced tonight and Romanian troops have seized the Carpathian passes and are battling Germans retreating westward.

Further shaking down Hitler's Balkan structure, the soviet information bureau said in a broadcast that Bulgaria, German Balkan satellite, had assured the Russian government of "absolute neutrality" and had declared that German troops will be opposed if they enter Bulgaria.

Ankara radio said all German troops had deserted Sofia, the Bulgarian capital.

The statement said enthusiastic demonstrations in Bucharest greeted the new Romanian government formed by King Mahai.

Bucharest, the "Paris of the Balkins," became the third capital to be freed from the nazi yoke, joining Paris and Rome as liberated cities.

French Newsman In Spain Says Herriot Still Alive

LISBON, Aug. 26—(AP)—Edouard Herriot, 72-year-old former president of France, still is alive somewhere in France although the Germans several times have reported him dead, Jules Sauerwein, a French newspaperman, said here last night.

Nelson Takes Blasting From Bradley Dewey

. . . Over Rubber Program Sniping

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26—(AP)—China-bound Donald M. Nelson was the target of a biting new blast today as evidence multiplied that when he returns he may not remain long in his chairmanship of the war production board.

The new attack, close on the heels of Charles E. Wilson's sharp criticisms when he resigned as executive vice chairman, was made by Rubber Director Bradley Dewey, saying that remarks Nelson made about the rubber program constituted "typical Washington sniping."

Dewey was alluding to the WPB chief's testimony before the senate war investigating committee in which Nelson, commenting upon Dewey's decision to retire Sept. 1 because the rubber program was completed, remarked that the tire program "was completed—all but getting the tires." Dewey said he never stated the tire producing job was done, merely that synthetic rubber plants were producing.

The new storm broke as J. A. Krug, assigned by the president to take Wilson's place while Nelson is in China on an assignment from Mr. Roosevelt, gave pointed indications that his authority is much broader than originally believed.

Krug told reporters that his authority included hiring and firing, that he was "starting a new deal from here on out," that he would "kill any sniping."

10,000 Ton Ship Is Named for Hastings

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26—(AP)—A 10,000-ton victory ship has been named in honor of Hastings, Neb., the U. S. maritime commission announced.

The ship, which is faster than the liberty-type vessels, will be named the "Hastings Victory" and is scheduled to be launched from the Permanente Metals corporation's shipyards at Richmond, Cal., about Oct. 18.

Commission officials said the mayor of Hastings will be asked to choose a sponsor for the launching.

Sgt. Raymond Pettet Missing In Action

Raymond Pettet

T/Sgt. Raymond Pettet, engineer-gunner on a B-24 attached to the Fifteenth air force in Italy, is reported missing in action over Romania on Aug. 10, according to word received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Pettet, 2709 Randolph street.

A graduate of Lincoln high school in 1941, Sgt. Pettet has been overseas a little over four months, and had participated in 46 missions over enemy territory. He had been awarded the air medal and three oak leaf clusters.

Omaha Board May Shorten School Term

'Would Not Injure College Rating'

OMAHA, Aug. 26—(AP)—Inclusion of plans to reduce the Omaha public school term from 36 to 34 weeks in the board of education's program to meet teacher salary demands will not injure the college rating of the Omaha schools unless "willfully" continued, Supt. H. M. Corning and Gunnar Horn, vice president of the Omaha Education association, agreed today.

This was one of three major steps taken at a board meeting yesterday in a tentative budget increase program which would provide $242,122 in additional funds to meet demands for a $500,000 annual pay boost for teachers, and assure reopening of 60 Omaha schools on schedule.

Corning and Horn said that the accredited standing of the Omaha school system in the North Central Association of Schools and Colleges contemplates a 36-week school term, but that temporar, departures of one or two years would not jeopardize local standing.

Would Save $150,000

Reduction of the school year would save an estimated $150,000, the school board said.

The vote was 5 to 2 and because a majority, or seven votes, is needed to pass the budget plans

—NEBRASKA TRADE—

JULY RETAIL SALES ABOVE '43 FIGURES

Lincoln Reports 3 Per Cent Gain

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26—(AP)—Sales of independent retailers in Nebraska were up 4 per cent for July, 1944, over July, 1943, federal census figures showed today, but were down 2 per cent from June, 1944.

Sales of all stores for the first seven months of this year stood 4 per cent over the corresponding period last year and department store sales were 10 per cent higher than those for the 7-month period last year, the census figures showed.

Jewelry Trade Down.

Types of stores reporting percentage increases for July over July 1943 were: shoe stores and women's ready-to-wear 26 per cent; dry good and general merchandise stores 12 per cent; eating and drinking places 9 per cent; drug stores 7 per cent; food stores and general stores 4 per cent; hardware stores sales were up 9 per cent and lumber and building materials dealers 8 per cent. Furniture store sales were up 2 per cent in dollar volume, but jewelry stores and motor vehicle dealers dropped back 7 per cent and 33 per cent respectively. Men's clothing and furnishing stores were unchanged.

Independent retailers in Omaha registered a 22 per cent gain over the corresponding month in 1943, but in Lincoln trade rose only 3 per cent.

Cities of less than 2,500 population reported an 8 per cent gain; cities of 2,500 to 5,000 showed a 3 per cent gain, but virtually no change was recorded for cities of 5,000 to 10,000 size and cities in the 10,000 to 25,000 group, the census report showed.

Nazi 7th Erasure Has Decided Battle Of France--Eisenhower

Allies Thrust Powerfully Toward Germany, Belgium

Melun Liberated By Yankee Forces

. . . Shell 40,000 Nazis Trapped At Seine's Mouth

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, Aug. 26—(AP)—Allied columns struck powerfully toward Germany and Belgium today and supreme headquarters warned the people of the border provinces of Al-Lorraine and the duchy of Luxembourg that war "very soon" may reach their lands.

Four bridgeheads southeast of Paris were strengthened for this eastward assault upon Germany. West of Paris allied armies whittled on perhaps 40,000 Germans trapped near the Seine's mouth, slashing their dwindling ranks with artillery shells.

"The elimination of the German Seventh army as a fighting entity has decided the battle of France," supreme headquarters asserted in broadcasts warning the residents of Alsace-Lorraine and Luxembourg to prepare for approaching battles.

Head For Bomb Coast.

German survivors of the Falaise and Seine traps "can at best fight a series of delaying actions on their retreat into Germany," the order added.

American troops already have struck across the Seine northwest of Paris, in spearheads that can slice to the Pas-De-Calais robot bomb coast and to Belgium.

Southeast of Paris, officially described as fairly quiet but with some mopping up continuing, American troops liberated Melun, 23 miles away, after a hard battle.

On Way To Marne.

(A London broadcast heard by CBS reported Americans pushing northeast toward the Marne on roads leading to Reims, Metz and Nancy.

The bridgeheads over the Seine were built up near Melun, at Corbeil, 15 miles below the capital, and at Fontainebleau and Montereau, 32 and 40 miles southeast of Paris.

Other U. S. units captured Marigny Le Chatel, 15 miles northwest of Troyes. The latter town is 130 miles from the German frontier.

German remnants near the Seine mouth were compressed into a pocket now only 10 miles deep, and were raked by medium artillery. Their river escape was constantly patrolled by allied planes, which in 24 hours wrecked 93 planes, 549 vehicles and 58 tanks

Seven Nazi Ships Sunk

. . . BY ALLIED NAVAL FORCES

LONDON, Aug. 26—(INS)—British and allied naval forces sank seven enemy vessels and drove two others ashore today during engagements off the coasts of France and Holland, the admiralty announced tonight.

Four enemy gunboats plying the coast of France off Cap d'Antifer, 15 miles north of Havre, were sent to the bottom along with an R-boat, the statement said. Two other coastal craft were forced to go aground.

In addition, two enemy ships were sunk off Holland, the communique concluded.

French Report Full Liberation Of Paris

. . . Comparative Calm Restored In Capital

LONDON, Aug. 26—(AP)—Paris, first allied capital to be released from under the nazi heel, emerged into comparative calm today after a storm of patriot rebellion and a fiercely fought battle between allied troops and thousands of Hitler's elite guards in the center of the city.

Gen. Charles De Gaulle had formally proclaimed liberation of the city after more than four years of nazi tyranny, and supreme headquarters today announced that the situation was "fairly quiet" although a few snipers remained to be wiped out especially in the Davron section.

Although Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's supreme headquarters had not yet announced the liberation, it was presumed such word was being withheld, as in the past, until the last of these snipers had been hunted down and the last nest of enemy resistance cleared or levelled.

Complete Picture Lacking.

Still lacking, however, was a complete picture of the battle damage when Brig. Gen. Jaques Le Clerc's Second French armored division and American troops stormed in from the south and west with tanks and attacked nazi strongholds in the heart of Paris.

The Paris radio said the battle ended when the German commander surrendered.

Berlin broadcasts denied that Gen. Werden, commanding the Paris garrison, had capitulated, and said troops in the capital area

Former Central City High School Athlete Is Killed In France

CENTRAL CITY, Aug. 26—(AP)—Pfc. Adelbert Pavetka, 19, former Central City basketball and football star who once earned Central six conference honors, was killed in action in France Aug. 4, the war department has notified his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pavetka.

Pfc. Pavetka entered the army in 1943 following his graduation from high school. A brother, Sgt. James Pavetka, also a former Central City athletic star, is stationed at Denver, Cloo.

16 Killed When U. S. Ships Collide In Air Over English Village

LONDON, Aug. 26—(AP)—Fourteen American airmen and two civilians, a woman and a child, were killed today after two American heavy bombers collided over Hitchin, Hertfordshire.

One plane exploded in the air and the other crashed. Four crewmen escaped by parachute. The two civilians were killed, and two others were injured when a bomb from one plane fell into a bungalow.

Surrender Is Signed In Dingy Baggage Room

BY EDWARD D. BALL.

PARIS, Aug. 25—(Delayed)—(8:20 P. M.)—(AP)—The final unconditional surrender of Paris was signed at 6 o'clock tonight in a bare, dingy baggage master's office in Montparnasse railroad station in Paris.

Seated in this cubbyhole at an unpainted wooden table was Gen. Dietrich Von Choltitz, German commander of the Paris garrison. He first faced Brig. Gen. Jacques Le Clerc and then a U. S. corps commander and signed the order to his troops which read:

"Resistance in the military district and defense points is immediately to be stopped. Signed, Von Choltitz, general of infantry."

Copies of the surrender order immediately were given to German officers who were escorted by American, British and French officers in jeeps to parts of the city where German units were fighting.

Le Clerc Unbending.

Gen. Charles De Gaulle who was in the city at the time of the surrender visited the station but did not meet Von Choltitz.

In mid-morning Le Clerc's office had contacted Von Choltitz at the Meurice hotel, but the lines were cut. Then a courier was sent with the unconditional surrender demand.

Signed copies were exchanged between Von Choltitz and Le Clerc and a French guard went to the Meurice to escort the German commander to Montparnasse station. After going

Lieut. Chloupek, Of Wahoo Killed In Plane Crash

WAHOO, Aug. 26—(AP)—The body of Lt. Raymond Chloupek, 27, who was killed yesterday in a plane crash near Carlsbad, N. M., will be brought to Wahoo for burial, Chloupek's widow informed his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Chloupek, yesterday. Two officers and three cadets were killed in the crash.

The date of the funeral services has not been set.

Lt. Chloupek was a graduate of Wahoo high school and Luther college, Wahoo. He was inducted into the army in December, 1942.

Bombardier Instructor.

He received his training at Albuquerque, N. M., and served as an instructor there before being sent to Carlsbad, where he has been a bombardier instructor for the past year.

Survivors, besides his widow and parents, include a son, George, and a daughter, Joyce, and three brothers, two of whom are in the service. A fourth brother, Donald, 17, was killed July 3 in Wichita, Kas., when a riveting machine he was operating in the Beech Aircraft factory broke and fell on him.

$39,748 Wagers On Races First 3 Days

State Auditor Ray C. Johnson who has had a staff of auditors watching pari-mutuel operation at the state fair races, said Saturday total receipts from wagers so far have been $89,748, which was $37,371 more than for the first three days at the races last year.

By days, 1944 receipts have been $27,889, $27,474 and $34,385. Total for last year was 52,377. By days, they were $15,674, $17,257 and $19,446.

Lincoln's 2.65 Rain Brings Mark To 12 Inches Over '43

Rain of record breaking duration and intensity for the month of August fell throughout the state Friday and Saturday morning, following heavy precipitation the two previous days.

The downpour was especially heavy in southeast Nebraska, with 24-hour records running to as high as 4.40 inches, reported at Sutton, and a low mark of 1.03 inches at Plattsmouth.

In Lincoln a total of 2.15 inches was recorded, with a mark for the storm of 2.65. This brought the precipitation for August to date to 4.78 inches, far above the 1943 August total of 2.31 and the normal average of 3.57.

Lancaster county received a thorough soaking, with unofficial precipitation reported from various towns as follows: Davey, 1.50 inches; Denton 3 inches; Malcolm, 2.50; Pleasant Dale, 3.50; Raymond, 2.50; Waverly, 2 inches and Greenwood 2 inches.

Rainfall reports to the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph company for the 24-hour period up to 9 a. m. Saturday:

Milford	1.83	York	1.50
Nebr. City	2.02

Total For Year 29.20.

Lincoln rainfall in 1944 to date was reported by the U. S. weather bureau to be 29.20 inches, almost 40 per cent above the total 1943 mark of 21.78 and nearly 12 inches more than the last year's record for the same period.

The continuing rainfall caused the mercury to topple to a low August mark of 55 Saturday morning, with a high for the previous 24 hours of 62 degrees. A year ago Saturday the thermometers here registered a high of 90, with a low of 70, and the 1943 mark for the previous day was 100, high, and a low of 74. Cool weather is expected to continue, the weather bureau stated.

Lincoln Paratrooper Is Among Men Honored By French Mayor

. . . NEBRASKANS AIDED IN CAPTURING TOWN PRIOR TO INVASION

HEADQUARTERS, 82nd Airborne Division, Aug. 26—(AP)—Lt. Jack F. Gavin, Lincoln paratrooper, was one of 12 Nebraska members of a parachute infantry regiment which captured Ste. Mere Eglise in Normandy three hours before allied landing forces touched the beachhead on D-Day.

(Lt. Gavin is the son of Mrs. Ruth Raymond Gavin, 3030 Summit avenue.)

For them the mayor of Ste. Mere Eglise has asked the decoration of the Fourragere Francaise, stating in a letter:

"For 48 hours these men, their strength reduced already by losses during the night, always alert for combat, separated from the sea by eight kilometers of hostile country, having on their right flank in the village of Fauville, towards Carentan, strong detachments of infantry and anti-aircraft units, on their left flank at Neuville au Plain two battalions of the German division 1,050 Hermann infantry, composed largely of guns and tanks, and finally on their west facing the sea, two companies of fanatical Georgians who would fight to the last man—these American soldiers resisted alone with their sub-machine guns, two machine guns and two small cannons taken from gliders.

"These men I observed in battle. They did not show false bravado. They spoke little, one might say they only maneuvered. They went along, cigarette between their lips or chewing

Liberation Paris Street Scenes Eclipse Hollywood Imagination

BY ROBERT REUBEN.

(Reuter's Special Correspondent.)
(Distributed by International News Service.)

INSIDE PARIS, Aug. 25—(INS)—(Delayed)—I am writing this dispatch in the shadow of the Arc De Triomphe during the most amazing battle in history—a battle which even Hollywood could not duplicate.

This afternoon a magnificent, colorful parade of liberation watched by a delirious crowd wound down the Victor Hugo street straight into the midst of a ferocious fight with German storm troopers barricaded in buildings near the Arc De Triomphe.

The parade continued as its forward elements engaged the Germans and attacked them in their strongholds while civilians stood around waving flags and cheering them on.

As the gaily-decorated tanks and half-tracks began to fire on the Germans, with the civilians at their sides, the thrilling notes of a French bugle sounded and signaled the advance into battle.

Women hugged and kissed soldiers as they charged and then ran for cover against nearby buildings while bursts of machinegun fire echoed deafeningly through the streets.

I stood among a strange mixture of crouching French soldiers, free French fighters and Red Cross girls with their white armlets.

Exploding shells seemed to shake the Arc De Triomphe itself and many women were knocked down by the concussion of the explosions. They merely laughed.

Paris is finishing its long awaited battle to defeat its overlords and the maquis are to be seen in the streets dragging frightened German soldiers with them.

It takes a heavy guard to prevent this long suffering population from rending these would-be world rulers in pieces.

One trembling German—his knees visibly shaking—is begging for mercy while the crowd hoots and shouts and women try to break through the guard to strike him.

We could see machinegunners with their guns blazing under the white Arc De Triomphe. Wounded men waved and smiled as their comrades carried them back, pausing while women kissed them.

The parade entered Paris proper about noon, but progress was slow, so terrific was the ovation it received and so crowded were the streets.

Early this morning we ventured down this street alone in our jeep with the American flag waving. Already the French people filled the streets awaiting the triumphal march of Gen. Jacques Le Clerc and the liberators.

I was caught in a tug of war between French women who tried to haul me from my jeep while my comrades in the vehicle held on to my feet. We were all kissed and slapped on the back by men and women surrounding the car.

"I am from Brooklyn," screamed one excited woman. All down the street we found former residents of the United States—from Ohio, New York, California and many other places.

We found an American pilot who has been fighting with the French resisters. He said we had come in the nick of time.

Our jeep—first American delegation to arrive—caused cries of "Vive L'Amerique."

A French veteran with one arm jumped off his bicycle and fought his way to the jeep. He grasped my hand and stood there silent and weeping.

The fight at the Arc De Triomphe has been in progress now for three hours and German resistance in this sector has almost ended.

LANCASTER-POLK SOIL DISTRICT VOTE IS FAVORED

C. C. Girardot, of the U. S. soil conservation service, who attended a hearing in Osceola on the proposed plan to declare the whole of Lancaster and Polk counties a soil conservation district, said Saturday morning that the proposal had received favorable consideration and support.

Over fifty men and women attended the hearing and expressed themselves as favoring a referendum. It will now be necessary, Mr. Girardot explained, for the state soil conservation committee to meet for the purpose of considering the extent of the interest in the proposal and to determine whether or not a referendum election should be called.

Approval of the plan by the state committee will be necessary before such an election could be called.

Maupin Frowns Upon Government's Suit Against Railroads

CLAY CENTER, Aug. 26—(AP)—Will M. Maupin, candidate for the state railway commission on which he has served six years, said today the government's anti-trust suit against western railroads is "ill advised" and "will serve to distract attention from the splendid efforts the railroads are making to further the war effort."

The action, Maupin said, "will cause too many high officials to divert their attention from efforts at speeding up transportation to take care of the railroads' side of this suit.

"Whatever injustices are being imposed upon the west in rate matters could well wait for the winning of the war for adjustment. I am convinced the west is severely handicapped by rate discrimination."

Seventh Polio Case Reported In North Platte Valley Area

GERING, Aug. 26—(AP)—The seventh case of infantile paralysis in the North Platte valley area of western Nebraska was reported today by the district health unit here. The latest victim is from Scottsbluff and is under treatment at his home there, the unit office disclosed.

Four cases have now been reported in Scottsbluff, including one victim who died, and one each at Morrill, Minatare and Bayard. All except the latest victim are under treatment either at Orthopedic hospital in Lincoln or at Children's hospital in Denver, the unit office said.

DEATH OF VON KLUGE RUMORED

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 26—(AP)—Field Marshal Gen. Guenther Von Kluge, commander of the German armies on the western front, has been killed, the newspaper Dagens Nyheter said today on the basis of information received from Germany. (The report lacked confirmation in either axis or allied quarters.)

Circumstances of the reported death were not known here and the newspaper had no additional details. The 61-year old Von Kluge succeded Field Marshal Gen. Karl Rudolph Von Runstedt on the western front last July 6.

The United States has purchased the Cuban crops of the last two years to help meet domestic and lend-lease requirements, the WFA said.

Joseph the Provider

Based on a Book-of-the-Month

BY THOMAS MANN

Joseph told Mai, "You shall be drawn out of this hole."

"Way by the King's command," the boy cried.

The courtier told Joseph, "Pharaoh summons you."

"I HAVE been put into this prison," said Joseph, "certainly by way of a mistake, and in a manner of speaking I have been stolen down here. Though you cannot see my chains, yet I have them. How can I go?"

"That has not the least thing to do with it," hurried on the runner, "by comparison with Pharaoh's beautiful will which makes all that vanish. But they will likely bring you back in short order. You will hardly be wiser than Pharaoh's greatest scholars."

"That is in God's hands," answered Joseph. He turned to the captain to take his leave. "You see, my friend," said he. "They hurry me out of the pit—it is the old pattern. This courier thinks I will come back down to you but I believe it not. Someone has thought of me, when he stubbed his toe against the memory of me. But I will think of you and you soon will be drawn out of this tedious hole."

When Joseph arrived at the City of the Blinking, thousands-of-years-old On, he had been arrayed in more suitable garments to stand before the king. There was a bustle on the square before the walled gate of the palace. Groups of police guards and charioteers barred the way and not without difficulty did the messenger and his charge make a way for themselves. "A guest, a guest, way by the King's command," cried the messenger.

He cried out again to the servants running towards him in the inner court; they made signs of assent and led Joseph to the foot of a staircase. A palace official stood at the top of it. He beckoned them up and then invited Joseph to follow him.

They paced the gaily coloured vestibule, which had landscapes on the walls and ornamental columns and arrived at a fountain hall likewise shining with pillars. Here there was a guard of armed men.

The guide led Joseph past them toward an inmost chamber. A little stooped courtier in a wonderful frilled apron detached himself from a crack in the portieres.

"Ah, the much-heralded know-it-all," said the little creature in a high pipe, with a lisp. "He who is wiser than all the scholars! I will announce you at once. The whole court is waiting for you. I will interrupt Pharaoh, whatever he is saying, to tell him you have arrived."

He slipped through the curtains. From inside, subdued voices could be heard: a youthful one, gentle and shy. Now the chamberlain came back and whispered, "Pharaoh summons you . . ."

'American' Is Magic Word In Southern France Today

. . . Civilians Hug, Kiss Yanks Near Avignon

By LARRY NEWMAN.

AVIGNON, France, Aug. 26—(INS)—American is a magic word in this part of France today.

U. S. troops slashed through Avignon in pursuit of fleeing the Rhone valley. When we entered on the heels of the fighting doughboys, civilians blocked the path and virtually picked up the jeep, shouting "vive l'-Amerque!"

Avignon has suffered severely from allied bombings and shellings and from German atrocities Germans who were headed up and persecution, but its spirit is unbowed. Men and women hugged and kissed my dirty, unshaved face.

Other women swarmed around Capt. Donald Reap of Dunmore, Pa., kissing him on both cheeks, but Reap had his own ideas. He insisted on kissing the prettiest girls "American style."

The famed Pope's palace which served him during the Babylonian exile ending in 1376 suffered only slight damage from allied bombings. Other landmarks were not so lucky. But the Avignon cathedral was untouched.

In villages and hamlets extending in a line 40 miles to the southeast of Avignon, residents lined every intersection, blocking the roads so that they could touch the Americans, and later the French troops who poured into the Rhone valley headed for a junction with the Normandy forces—which shouldn't be long at their present rate of progress.

Along the route civilians reported that the Germans began to pull out 36 hours ago, taking all the food, wine, clothing and furniture they could carry. But the allied air forces smashed plenty of material along the highways, which were dotted with burned and wrecked enemy vehicles.

As one Avignon patriot put it, "this is 1940 in reverse," and the speed of the advance indicates that he is right.

Values Vary In Mead Land Condemnation

. . . As Witnesses Heard

Four witnesses testified Friday afternoon concerning lands formerly owned by Fred and Josephine Forgette in the Mead condemnation suit being heard in Federal court, and there was as much as $40 an acre difference in the valuation of the land made by government witnesses and by those testifying for the respondents.

First to testify was E. C. Johnson, Mead, witness for the respondents, who fixed the value of the Forgette home 40, including improvements, at $14,500. He stated that an improved 120 was worth $21,000, and the other 40 acre unimproved tracts he valued at $6,000.

John Wykoff, Broken Bow, appraiser for the Federal Land Bank at Omaha, estimated two of the Forgette 40 acres at $4,400 each, and Walter Duncan, Atlantic, Ia., also a Federal Land Bank appraiser, fixed the value of the home 40 acres at $7,000 and the 40 acre unimproved tracts, including the fences, at $4,400.

Another government witness, William J. Valcek, Wahoo real estate man, stated that in his opinion the home 40 including all improvements was worth $6,000 and that the unimproved 40 acre tracts were worth from $105 to $110 per acre. An improved 120 acre tract was worth $125 per acre, he said.

The trial was adjourned late in the afternoon until 9:30 a.m. Monday.

New Building Material Is Stronger Than Steel

EVANSTON, Ill., Aug. 26—(INS)—Development of a new building material stronger than steel, lighter than aluminum and cheaper than either to produce was announced today at Northwestern university.

The new substance, composed chiefly of concrete, was discovered during experiments carried on under Prof. George A. Maney, chairman of the department of civil engineering, as part of the war production board program to find substitutes for scarce materials.

The concrete is compressed to a greater density than previously has been possible and encased in a spiral of steel wiring, the announcement stated.

Farmer Fatally Hurt Unloading Oats At Granary

HARRISBURG, Neb., Aug. 26—(AP)—Frank S. Stauffer, 70, longtime resident of Banner county, died Friday night of a fractured skull incurred as the result of being caught in the power takeoff of a tractor attached to a grain elevator, Banner County Attorney W. H. Kirwin said today.

Stauffer died while being brought to a doctor in Gering. With his son, Henry, Stauffer had driven up to the granary with a load of oats and was preparing to unload when his clothes caught in the power takeoff, Kirwin said. Stauffer was thrown against the machine and his clothes stripped off.

Stauffer's wife and several children survive.

Farm Bureau Plans Hybrid Corn Program

. . . Counties To Act

The hybrid seed corn committee, appointed by the Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation board of directors met here Friday to study and lay out plans for the production of hybrid seed corn for Farm Bureau members in 1945.

The committee decided to ask each county Farm Bureau to appoint a hybrid seed corn committee to take charge of setting up the project in their county and to be represented at the state convention to decide on varieties of corn to be produced. All corn produced will be of state certified varieties.

Those on the committee are Albert Staats, Lincoln, manager of the Nebraska Non-Stock Cooperative association; Dale Stubblefield, director of the Buffalo county farm bureau; John Dobberstein, president of the Hall county farm bureau; Ed Hotz, president and Elmer Wittmuss, secretary of the Sarpy county Farm Bureau Booster club.

The committee plans to hold other meetings in the future and will report a detailed plan to the Nebraska Farm Bureau convention in November.

Sidney Man Directs Army Band Serving 'Double Duty' Roles

HEADQUARTERS, European Theater of Operations, Aug 26—(AP)—A group of soldier-musicians under the direction of T/Sgt. Arthur D. Chambers, 31, of Sidney, Neb., is doing double duty here. They work full time at their ordnance job of supplying material to combat troops and in their spare time play for company parties, hospital functions, Red Cross and officer club dances and for the listening enjoyment of the "GI's"

"Music is excellent for morale," Sgt. Chambers said. "The boys like to listen to us and we even have an audience during practice sessions. They like the old tunes best, the ones that remind them of the parties and dances back home."

Sgt. Chambers, whose wife lives in Sidney, is a former University of Nebraska student, and now is acting sergeant major in an ordnance battalion.

ALBERT F. SCHULTZ DIES AT AGE OF 93

Albert F. Schultz, 93, for 70 years a farmer in the vicinity of Crete, died Friday at his farm home eight miles northeast of Crete. He was born in Poland, and was a member of the Sacred Heart church at Crete.

Surviving are two daughters, Mary Augusta Schultz, Crete, and Mrs. Frank A. Schwenke, Lincoln; three sons, Frank C., Albert F., and Henry F. A., all of Crete; five grandchildren and seven great grandchildren.

—'CHAOS EXISTS'—

Meat Probe Requested By Wherry

BLAMES FED'L AGENCIES FOR PRESENT SITUATION

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26—(AP)—Charges that federal agencies have discouraged production of an adequate supply of beef and that better grades of beef are moving through black market channels have been made in statements prepared for the congressional record by Senator Wherry (R-Neb.) and Rep. Miller (R-Neb.)

Wherry, who asked the senate to authorize an investigation, said practicaly every step taken by the office of price administration since its inception "has tended to discourage the production of an adequate supply" and that other government agencies have "added to the disruption of this essential industry."

Black Market Cited.

Miller told congress "if you find your beefsteak tough you can blame it on the several agencies who have discouraged the fattening of cattle" and declared chaos exists in the production of beef because of confusing orders issued by government agencies. "Finished" meat, he said, is going through the black market.

Unless something is done immediately to encourage the corn-belt feeders to purchase the cattle now moving from western ranges and take them into their feed lots for finishing, we will not have edible beef during 1945," Wherry said, adding that civilians will not, for the next 90 days, "have even a reasonable amount" of good and choice beef for consumption.

Disorganized Program.

Declaring better grades of beef available after allocations to the armed forces move through black market channels under present regulations, Wherry said an investigation could determine from the evidence of cattle feeders, processors, distributors and consumers what legislation is needed to "correct a program which now is admittedly very much disorganized, discorded, disrupted and injurious to the cattle producer."

Miller said reports on Aug. 16 indicated 700,000 fewer head of cattle were being fed in the nation than a year ago.

The reduction can be traced directly to agencies which placed ceilings on cattle and "issued other confusing directives, including the changing of rules in the middle of the feed lot," Miller declared.

Miller asserted agencies are becoming "panicky" now because they realize that with nearly 50 per cent fewer cattle on feed, there will be a shortage of meat on the market.

England Has 24 Hours Of No Air Alarm

. . . Buzz Bombs Missing

LONDON, Aug. 26—(AP)—London and the southern counties enjoyed more than 24 hours of relief from flying bomb attacks without a single alert in the London area during last night.

For the first time in over two months the home security communique announced "up to 7 a. m., there has been nothing to report."

Lt. Gordon Fanders Of Diller Is Killed

DILLER, Aug. 26—Lt. Gordon Fanders, 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. V. Fanders of Diller, has been reported killed on the European battlefront according to word from the war department.

Other survivors are his wife, the former Roberta Lane of Yuma, Ariz., a twin sister, Gretchen of Los Angeles, and a brother, Wendell in the army air force.

TOMATOES GROW TO LARGE PROPORTIONS

A. C. Hardin, 6518 Holdrege street, is proudly displaying to friends tomatoes taken from his garden at that address. One nicely colored Ponderosa brought to The Star office weighed 1 pound, 6 ounces, and others were almost equally large. Off one vine Mr. Hardin has picked 88 tomatoes, with 35 still remaining for later harvesting.

Entries For Stock Show At Nebraska Fair Running High

Hundreds of top-quality cattle and swine, entered by exhibitors in the Nebraska State Fair livestock show, promise to give fair goers one of the greatest stock shows in many a season, State Fair Board Chairman Edwin Schultz, declared Saturday.

"Entries in our swine show are already ahead of those of 1942, when we staged the biggest swine show in the United States," said Schultz. "Many of the world's outstanding producers have scheduled full exhibits of their herds."

Despite transportation obstacles cattle entries in the open class judging are running high. Entries have been made from Missouri, Kansas, Wisconsin, Texas, Illinois, South Dakota, Iowa, Minnesota and Nebraska.

Livestock show pens have been improved with new construction and Dr. Sprague of the state veterinary's office is supervising disinfection of the barns.

Hit Jap Cruiser

Seven Other Ships Blasted In Raid On North Dutch Celebes

GENERAL HEADQUARTERS, Southwest Pacific, Aug. 26—(AP)—Hitting Japanese ships at a pace better than five a day for August, the Far Eastern air force was reported today to have blasted a cruiser, seven freighter-transports and a barge tender at Dutch Celebes on the invasion path to the Philippines.

The Thursday raid, just announced by Gen. Douglas MacArthur, plus three coastal vessels and a landing craft sunk elsewhere, made the total recorded in 26 August communiques read:

140 Barges, Luggers Sunk.

These do not take into account more than 140 luggers and barges sunk or severely damaged. Forty such supply craft were riddled by the Mitchells which went in at mast height of Manado, northern Celebes, to sink five of the freighter-transports, leave the burning light cruiser with a marked list, and probably sink the other two transports. The 4,000-ton barge tender fell victim to a Liberator.

Sunk or probably sunk—92 ships, among these 34 freighter-transports with a tonnage exceeding 60,000.

Damaged, some likely sunk—42 ships, including 26 freighter-transports with a tonnage of more than 50,000; also a destroyer and destroyer tender.

Seventeen ships have been sunk in recent raids at Celebes and 29 around Halmahera.

Today's communique added 59 more tons of bombs to the approximately 500 which have hit Halmahera in a week.

From Pearl Harbor, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz reported a strike Wednesday night by Seventh army air force Liberators at Iwo Jima in the Volcano islands, within 750 miles of Tokyo.

2 Nebraska Marines Wounded In Battle

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26—(AP)—Two Nebraska marines were reported wounded in a navy casualty list today. They were:

Cpl. Robert C. Oliphant, son of Willis C. Oliphant, North Platte and Cpl. Laurence A. Ritzo, son of Mrs. Mary Ritzo, Omaha.

Awarded Bronze Star.

First Lieutenant Harold J. Wendt, Pender, Neb., and John C. Nielsen, Omaha, have been awarded the bronze star medal, the war department announced today. The announcement did not describe the action.

Eight Promoted.

Eight Nebraskans have won temporary promotions and one has been ordered to active duty, the war department announced today. The promotions:

To major—PAUL THALBERT CASH, MC, Omaha; MYRON NELS JORGENSEN, SNC, Omaha, and BENJAMIN FRANKLIN JOHNSON, DC, Wausa.

To captain—ARTHUR J. BUCHANAN, CMP, Omaha; ALBERT HANSEN, AC, St. Paul, and ARNOLD EMIL CARLSON, AC, Waverly.

To first lieutenant—FREDERICK WILLIAM ROTTMAN, III, AC, Nebraska City; MARK SPENCER BORLAND, AC, Omaha.

FIRST LT. WILLIAM MORTON SPENCE, CH, Orchard, has been ordered to active duty.

Oberles' Infant Dies

Gary-Lee Earl Oberle, two months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl H. Oberle of Eagle, died at a local hospital early Saturday morning. Besides his parents, he is survived by two brothers, Dean and Dale; a grandfather, R. A. Oberele, and a grandmother, Mrs. Mary Pump, all of Eagle.

—CANADIANS CLOSE ON ROUEN—

GERMAN LOSSES ARE HUGE

FLEEING NAZIS ATTEMPT TO CROSS SEINE IN DAYLIGHT

WITH THE CANADIAN FIRST ARMY IN FRANCE, Aug. 26—(AP)—Canadian First army troops in a whirlwind advance reached the Seine river today and were closing in on Rouen where the Germans were suffering terrible losses under a storm of bombs and shells.

Lt. Gen. H. D. G. Crerar flung his armor a distance of 20 miles to reach the Seine banks beyond Louviers. North of this arm Canadian infantry sped 20 miles forward to a point five miles from the Seine near Bourgtheroulde.

Bourgtheroulde is directly in front of a three-mile wide loop of the Seine. Roen is at the top of this 10-mile deep loop and stands on both sides of the river.

"The Germans have thrown everything to the wind trying to get across the Seine in daylight," a senior Canadian officer said. "Masses of vehicles are queueing up trying to get on anything that will take them across. His (the enemy's) most frantic efforts are around Rouen."

Advance Canadian forces were near Elbeuf to join Americans only eight miles from Rouen which sits astride the Seine.

AAF Examining Board Continues State Tour

Qualifying mental examinations for the army specialized training reserve program under which 17-year-old youths attend college on a military scholarship before army duty or for the air corps enlisted reserve will be given in three south central Nebraska cities this coming week.

Lieut. F. Gagne, president of the Omaha army air forces examining board, announced Saturday that a traveling examining board from the Omaha office would be at Hebron on Monday and Tuesday, Aug. 28, 29; at Geneva on Wednesday and Thursday, Aug. 30, 31; and at Crete on Friday and Saturday, Sept. 1, 2.

Headed By Kinnie.

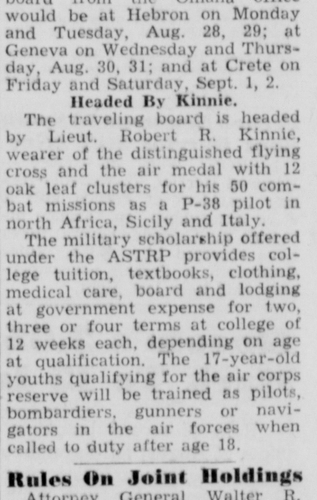

The traveling board is headed by Lieut. Robert R. Kinnie, wearer of the distinguished flying cross and the air medal with 12 oak leaf clusters for his 50 combat missions as a P-38 pilot in north Africa, Sicily and Italy.

The military scholarship offered under the ASTRP provides college tuition, textbooks, clothing, medical care, board and lodging at government expense for two, three or four terms at college of 12 weeks each, depending on age at qualification. The 17-year-old youths qualifying for the air corps reserve will be trained as pilots, bombardiers, gunners or navigators in the air forces when called to duty after age 18.

Rules On Joint Holdings

Attorney General Walter R. Johnson held iin an opinion that real estate, war bonds or other property held jointly by husband and wife is not subject to estate inheritance tax in event of the death of one.

Johnson gave an opinion requested by Lloyd M. Jordan, Sheridan county attorney.

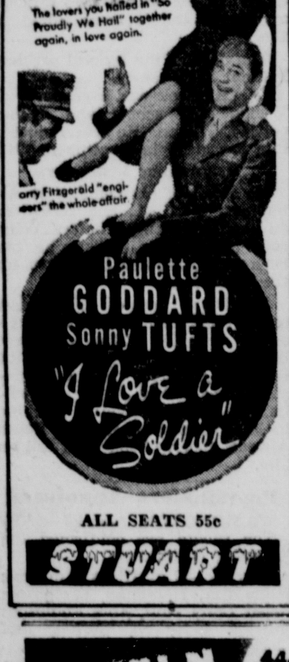

A prescription is a mighty important matter with us. That is why we employ only graduate, registered, capable pharmacists. That is why we use only the finest quality fresh pure chemicals. And a double checking system that guarantees accuracy.

Soviets Race To Capital

Charging Reds Only 100 Miles From Bucharest

MOSCOW, Aug. 26—(AP)—Romanian troops were reported turning on the Germans, killing and taking them prisoner, as the red army sped through the Galati gap today toward Bucharest at a pace which, if maintained, would carry soviet spearheads to the Romanian capital by tomorrow night.

The charging Russian troops last were reported little more than 100 miles from Bucharest and barely 75 from the Ploessti oil fields. The Siret river was crossed 20 miles south of captured Tecuci.

The continuating lightning-like drive through Romania has cost the enemy nearly 205,000 killed or captured in six days.

12 Divisions Encircled.

The annihilation of 12 nazi divisions encircled southwest of fallen Chisinau, provincial capital of Bessarabia, continued as the outnumbered Germans fought in dazed, small groups or fled in disorder.

A Russian war bulletin disclosed that a soviet spearhead was driven to the Danube river delta at Kiliya on the Danube river, 15 miles west of the Black seaport of Valcov.

(The German news agency Transocean said today the Russians were striking to cross the Danube delta in Romania, claiming that German torpedo boats on the river repelled soviet "offensive thrusts across the Delta.")

550 Villages Taken.

More than 550 villages and towns were occupied by the Second Ukraine army forces of Gen. Malinovsky and Gen. Feodor I. Solbukhin's Third Ukraine army, as their two commands joined along the Prut river at Leuseni, 32 miles west of Chisinau.

In other important successes yesterday Gen. Ivan Maslennikov's Third Baltic army captured Tartu, a center of nazi resistance in central Estonia, and Gen. G. F. Zakharov's Second White Russian army advance in the direction of the German frontier in northern Poland seized over 40 populated points south of Lomza.

Marshal Konstantin K. Rokossovsky was reported bettering his positions east and northeast of Warsaw's suburb of Praga, although the Germans still were mounting tank and infantry tanks against him.

In the Vistula bridgehead below Warsaw and on the East Prussian frontier red army forces maintained pressure on the nazis, preventing a possible diverting of strength to Hitler's wavering Balkan satellites.

Army Changes Its Decision On Radio Time

. . . WHERRY RAPS REVERSAL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26—(AP)—Republican leaders joined socialist Norman Thomas today in contending that the white house was responsible for the war department's turn-about ruling that President Roosevelt's Aug. 12 speech at Bremerton, Wash., was not "political."

Herbert Brownell, jr., republican national chairman, was one of these. In New York he served notice that he was renewing his request that Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, the party presidential candidate, be given equal radio time, "pointing out that army officials clearly recognized the Bremerton broadcast as a campaign speech made by a political candidate and it was only after some mysterious interference from someone above that the decision was reversed."

White House Silent.

The ruling against the demand of Thomas, socialist party presidential candidate, for equal opportunity to address troops overseas by radio, was announced last night by John J. McCloy, acting secretary of war. Only eight hours earlier, the department had announced it was granting the request of the socialist party.

At the white house, there was no immediate comment.

Senator Wherry of Nebraska, the republican whip, said the speech was "political" and that the army's reversal "was due without doubt to white house pressure." Wherry told reporters:

"The president of the United States has brought pressure on the war department to make it do an about-face on the matter."

In Denver, Thomas said "it proves the commander-in-chief, who also is a candidate for re-election, ruled that his own speech was not political."

wigshafen near the Swiss Border.

German batteries and fortified positions at Brest were attacked by up to 250 Liberators and Flying Fortresses, aiding ground assaults to crush resistance in the big Atlantic port. Brest's defenses were drenched last night by 1,350 tons of explosives of the RAF.

Weather Clears.

Clear weather over France and Germany enabled both American air task forces today to drop their bombs visually.

In another concentrated attack before dawn the RAF dumped nearly 1,700 tons of bombs on the Open motor works at Russelsheim between Mainz and Frankfurt.

Others smacked flying bomb launching sites and a rocket depot in northern France, the rail and industrial town of Darmstadt in the upper Rhineland, and Mosquitos unloaded two-on blockbusters on Berlin. The RAF lost 27 planes during the night.

The allied air forces lost 78 planes in their extensive operations yesterday and throughout the night. These included 17 bombers, seven fighters for the U. S. Eighth air force and 19 planes for the U. S. Ninth air force.

(Against their losses the allies tallied 144 German aircraft destroyed in the air and on the ground.

Bennet Horse Show Group Incorporates

Business men of Bennet filed articles of incorporation of a membership organization to be called the Bennet Horse Show and Agricultural association with Secretary of State Frank Marsh. It takes the place of a stock sale organization that has been operating in Bennet for some years. Among incorporators are Albert A. Francke, V. J. Vesely, C. M. Kinzler, C. E. May, L. H. Schappaugh, Bernard and Louis Knopp, Gust Koff and Lawrence Markey.

MELUN LIBERATED

in 24 hours. Sixty-one barges and four larger ships were wrecked or damaged.

Canadians driving eastward 20 miles reached the Seine banks beyond Louviers, and joined Americans at Elbeuf below Rouen. Here they could strike between a loop of the Seine at Rouen straddling the Seine.

Allied advances near the Seine mouth below Le Havre were slower against more stubborn resistance.

Some 300 miles west of the main front, ground, sea and air forces drove in to crush the resistance at Brest, port on the western tip of Brittany. RAF bombers poured down 1,350 tons of bombs on Brest's defenses last night. Up to 250 Liberators and Flying Fortresses assaulted similar targets today.

For two hours yesterday the great British battleship Warspite poured 15 inch shells into Brest, crumbling enemy gun emplacements into impotence. This bombardment was termed the most concentrated ever made in this war by a single British battle wagon.

Some Nazis Pull Out.

The allied drive north toward the Pas-De-Calais coast coincided with a lull in the flying bombs attacks on London and southern England, but it was not known whether the Germans already were moving their robot launching platforms out of range of Eisenhower's advancing armies. Allied pilots reported the Germans had pulled out at least part of their forces from the rocket coast fortifications.

Although American tanks in a 23-mile advance had pushed into Troyes, 130 miles south of the German border at the Saar, there was almost a complete blackout of official information at supreme headquarters on how far allied troops have pushed in the direction of Belgium and Germany.

If the Germans make another stand in France it is believed they probably will do so along the old Somme line amid the battlefields of the first World war.

Keep Foe Confused.

In their present confused state it was unlikely that the Germans have an exact idea where the American, British and Canadian advanced columns have reached. One of the new American crossings of the Seine was made at Corbeil, 18 miles southeast of Paris.

The state of nazi disintegration in France was self-evident in the report from Nancy, 80 miles northeast of Troyes and 70 miles from the German border at Strasbourg, of conditions in the heart of the defense belt being attacked by Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's spearhead

Confusion, disorganization and panic ruled, as German soldiers sought to escape in civilian clothes, the report said.

The start of the long-delayed assault on Brest indicated the allies were hurrying the clearance of that vital port and naval base for the armies waiting across the seas to join in the showdown battle for Europe.

The taking of Brest would be of even greater significance in a military sense than the liberation of Paris since Brest is needed for the same role it served a quarter of a century ago—the feeding and supplying of American forces.

Brest has been cut off and under siege for more than three weeks, but up to now the main allied effort has been needed at other points.

At the German border the nazis have the Siegfried line, Hitler's old west wall facing France.

(A Madrid dispatch quoted a radio message received in the Spanish capital as saying that more than 100,000 foreign laborers were working night and day under nazi overseers in an effort to strengthen the Siegfried line.)

SOUTHERN FRANCE

ROME, Aug. 26—(AP)—American columns have occupied the Alpine town of Briancon, near the Italian frontier more than 100 miles north of the captured seaport of Cannes, and other Seventh army forces have driven into Avignon, key communications cen terin the delta of the Rhone valley, allied headquarters announced today.

The Germans reported fighting near Montelimar, nearly 50 miles north of Avignon, but there was no allied confirmation.

Reports from southern France indicated, however, that the situation was comparable with that in Brittany when the Americans first broke out of the Normandy beachhead.

Patriot and Seventh army forces appeared to be roaming widely, seeking out disorganized enemy groups who were fleeing through a narrow gap between allied forces in northern and southern France.

The triumphant advance of Lt. Gen. Alexander M. Patch's troops freed nearly all of southern France east of the Rhone river and south of Avignon and Briancon. At the eastern coastal end of the invasion front, his forces were fighting less than 20 miles from the Italian frontier, pushing forward on Nice from Antibes, which fell yesterday.

The German radio said today that clashes with probing American and patriot forces in the Rhone valley as far as Valence and Loriol had occurred.

Valence is 110 miles up the Rhone valley from the Mediterranean coast and Loriol is about 15 miles to the south.

Paddock's Decision To Quit No Surprise Says CIO Committee

NEW YORK, Aug. 26—(AP)—The CIO's national war relief committee said today that Charles Paddock's resignation as its director in the Des Moines area "was expected" because Paddock "obviously violated the policy of our committee with respect to using his official office to promote his particular brand of party politics."

National headquarters of the socialist party said yesterday that Paddock, who is supporting socialist presidential Candidate Norman Thomas, resigned in protest "against the committee's new policy of dictating the private political beliefs and activities of its field directors."

—ALSACE LORRAINE—

BORDER NATIONS WARNED

. . . OF APPROACHING WAR BY GENERAL EISENHOWER

NEW YORK, Aug. 26—(AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower broadcast an order today to the French in Alsace-Lorraine bordering Germany telling them that already they are in the "rear area of military operations" and may soon be in the theater of war, the British radio said. The broadcast was recorded by CBS.

The order from Eisenhower's headquarters, which also was addressed to the people of Luxembourg, said:

"The elimination of the German Seventh army as a fighting entity has decided the battle of France. The survivors of the Normandy battle, and a handful of German divisions north of the Seine can at best fight a series of delaying actions on their retreat into Germany.

"The areas in which you live are already today in the rear area of military operations. Very soon they may become a theater of war.

Issue Notice.

"In view of these facts I give you the following notice:

"One: The rear communications of the remnants of the German army retreating into Germany will be subjected to bombing as devastating as that which preceded and accompanied the allied campaign in Normandy. The people of Alsace, Lorraine, and of the Duchy of Luxembourg are hereby warned that everyone who lives or works in the vicinity of the road, rail and canal communications, or military depots, camps or factories working for the nazi war machine, must from now on reckon that they may be exposed to high level or low level air attack at any hour of the day or night. Take all precautions to protect yourself.

"Two: The Germans may attempt to force you to build emergency earthworks and fortifications. Such constructions will be areas of special danger. Therefore, in order to prevent useless civilian casualties, keep away from them, take refuge in the countryside. Take with you food, water and warm clothing. Keep away from the Germans, and from everything that may be a target for air attack.

"Three: The people of Alsace, Lorraine, and the of Duchy of Luxembourg are further warned that the Germans, in their desperation, may become guilty of crimes and atrocities. All perpetrators of such will be brought to trial. You are asked to make careful note of the circumstances in which crimes and atrocities are committed. War evidence will be accepted by the allied judicial authorties when the time for settlement arrives.

"That ends this message, dated Aug. 26th, 1944, issued at the order of the supreme commander. This is a member of the staff of supreme headquarterms, allied expeditionary force."

GOP Executive Group Meets Here Sept. 6

Executive committee of the republican state committee will hold its first meeting since the state convention in Lincoln Sept. 6, State Chairman A. T. (Bert) Howard announced. National Committeeman A. V. Shotwell and National Committeewoman Edna Donald will attend as well as Mrs. J. Knox Jones, state vice chairman.

Members of the committee according to congressional districts are as follows:

First: Robert VanPelt, Lincoln, chairman; C. E. Alter, Alma, and Mrs. Walter Kiechel, Tecumseh. Second: T. H. Maeuner, Omaha, chairman; Jaul Kruger, Fort Calhoun, and Mrs. Morton Steinhart Nebraska City. Third: Donald Mapes, Norfolk, chairman; John Riddel, York, and Mrs. Anna Kuhl, Leigh. Fourth: Frank J. Davis, Broken Bow, chairman; S. E. Torgeson, Kimball, and Mrs. Reuben Knight, Alliance.

At the same time Chairman Howard took occasion to correct an impression that service men from New York could not obtain a full state ballot this fall. His attention had been called to the matter by a group who asked information. He said they were surprised to learn all they had to do was fill out an army post card application and send it to the New York war ballot commission.

Kearney Escapee Found In Hastings

KEARNEY, Aug. 26—(AP)—Dean Ransom, 15, Hastings, who escaped from the stat industrial school here Aug. 15, is in the custody of Hastings police to be returned here today, Supt. Hugo Carroll of the state school said.

Carroll alsb reported that Paul Bell, 17, and Walter Lentz, 17, both of Omaha, who escaped Aug. 17, were apprehended in Omaha and returned here yesterday.

OMAHA SCHOOLS

were made to hold another board meeting Monday.

The board proposed a three-point program to balance the $3,638,888 budget against anticipated income of $3,396,765:

1. Reduction of the normal 36-week school year to 34 weeks at an estimated saving of $150,000.

2. Amend the teachers' pension program in the 1945 legislature so teacher contributions will be boosted from 1" to 5 per cent of salary, thereby saving another $75,000 of school operating funds now going to finance the $234,000 annual pay-as-you-go retirement system.

3. Obtain from teachers an agreement waiving claim to $30,000 in "bonus" promised on last year's salaries out of a $63,000 budget balance now on hand.

Seek Mass Meeting.

President C. C. Matthews, Vice President Gunnar Horn and Secretary Frank Heinisch of the Omaha Education association said they would recommend at a mass meeting of teachers Sept. 2 that the board's plan be accepted and teachers report for duty on scehdule.

Teachers had threatened not to report for work and delay the fall opening of schools unless satisfied with school board salary arrangements.

Chairman George Tuison of the board's finance committee said he was assured "at least two of the five board members absent" from the meeting last night "will join in supporting the program."

District Making Saving On Bridge

Engineer Walter B. Coale advised trustees of Sanitary District No. 1 that because of the government ceiling of three cents a pound on old steel and in consideration of the new steel price of six cents a pound, the district is making a definite saving in the purchase of the old county span which is to be rebuilt over Salt creek at South street.

This fact, Mr. Coale pointed out, should not be taken as a "shrewd deal." The district, he said, is "just fortunate to be on the buying rather than the selling end under existing conditions."

The 140-foot span, removed from the south boundary of the Lincoln Army Air Field, was repainted and stored by the county engineer and is in good condition, Mr. Coale reported. It is of heavy construction, and while not of the most modern style, is perfectly good.

The gas line that crossed on the old South street bridge has been removed and workmen are now moving the water line. The gas line will be affixed to the span just purchased. Disposition of the water line has not been decided. The district may decide to siphon under the culvert or attach it to the bridge, when completed.

Mr. Coale also reported that ditching has been completed to the Haines branch and that there only remains the excavating from that stream to Van Dorn street, yet to be completed, and that the Burlington expects to have its new J street bridge ready for use within the next 30 days.

Surrender Signed

through the formality of accepting the surrender the cold, unbending Le Clerc posed outside the station with Von Choltitz.

A Dejected Lot.

Outside on the floor of the station platform a dozen members of Von Choltitz' staff, from full colonels down, sat with their legs dangling over the tracks. They were a dejected lot with close-cropped bare heads bowed. Stray bullets crashed through the massive glass-paned shed over the tracks, showering them with glass splinters, and each time a bullet hit they ducked.

They were guarded by a lone French poilu, while Capt. John E. Thomas of Minneapolis, Minn., the corps commander's aide, stood guard at the door of a baggage-conference room.

A German signals colonel said that all SS troops left 14 days ago and that the only nazi forces left were members of the regular Paris garrison. Whether they were SS or not, they fought like hellions when cornered in Luxembourg gardens even after the surrender negotiations were in progress.

Parisians Look Well Fed.

Two hours after Von Choltitz' ceasefire order went out there was machine-gunning by Germans about the city.

As I write this there are bursts from machine guns and machine pistols outside my hotel on Boulevard St. Michel leading down to Notre Dame cathedral.

Notre Dame cathedral itself is not damaged.

Paris as a whole appears to have suffered only slightly from war. The damage here is nothing compared with London.

If there is any starvation here it didn't show up today among the hundreds of thousands who welcomed the liberators. In contrast to Londoners who show the pinch of nearly five years of short rations, the Parisians look well fed.

Sing in Streets.

Tonight while bullets still where whinning around Paris, Parisians were singing in the streets.

Great pillars of black smoke rose over Versailles where the west wing of Versailles palace still was burning. Dull red glows ringed the city from burning military forts fired by the Germans when they saw their occupation of more than four years was nearing an end.

For the Americans and the French, capture of Von Choltitz was a particularly rich haul. He commanded the 84th German corps which allied troops have battled all the way from Cherbourg to Paris. He took command of the Paris garrison 14 days ago.

He denied there had been any kind of armistice with French resistance forces before Le Clerc's entry. He said there had been an "arrangement" whereby the Germans would be permitted to move troops into and out of the city without being shot at in return for permission for the French to transport food into the city.

Chunks of the senate building were ripped out and sent flying by shells from French tanks when allied forces stormed into Paris.

The first American soldiers in Paris may have been Pvt. Robert E. Paup, York, Pa., and Cpl. Jack Hamilton of Midlothian, Tex. They came in with a one star general, and with Lt. Melvin Stock, Pittsburgh, and Capt. Howard J. Crager, New York City, who are public relations officers.

gum, hugging the walls, yet going along upright and quietly, under the careless shelling from the batteries of Azéville and Saint Martin. . . ."

Heavy Losses.

The mayor concluded: "Forty-eight hours after their arrival the magnificent work was accomplished, by them alone. Two battalions had been cut to pieces. In the north, two battalions; in the south, one battalion and anti-aircraft units; in the west two companies of Georgians whose remnants barriicaded themselves in a chateau at Beuzeville Au Plain. They had destroyed eight tanks, some cannon and had taken 364 prisoners. Their losses were heavy."

Small fields bordered by hedgerows made excellent cover for the Germans. There were few open fields of fire.

Nebraskans in this now-famous regiment include:

Cpl. Raymond W. Sobotka, Bee; Sgt. Clyde E. Hein, Big Springs; Pvt. Robert L. Moss, Columbus; Pvt. Willard J. Stauffer, Cozad; Pvt. Floyd E. Ostrand, Holdrege; Pfc. J. E. Koehn, Lexington, 2nd Lt. Jack F. Gavin, 3030 Summit avenue., Lincoln; Pfc. Rudolph J. Oppliger, Oakdale; Pfc. Stanley W. Kotlarz, and Pvt. David J. Stewart both of Omaha; Pvt. Fred F. Golden, Oshkosh, and Cpl. George Sheffert, Roca.

Appeals License Denial

Irvin C. Clark of Randolph, who was denied an outside beer license by the state liquor control commission, has appealed from the ruling to the commission and asked for a public hearing, date for which has been set August 29, at 2 p. m.

Week-End

HAS ITS EXCITING MOMENTS

IT COULD HAVE been a cold, dull and altogether gloomy week-end—But it isn't. There is exciting news about an arrival on Sunday, and there also are guests in town for whom courtesies are being given.

Sunday is a red letter day for Major Harold B. Miles, and his mother, Mrs. H. B. Miles, for on Sunday the Major arrives by plane to spend a thirty days leave in Lincoln, after two and one-half years in the Caribbean theater of war.

IN TOWN FROM FREMONT for the week-end is Mrs. George Sampson, who is dividing her time between the homes of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Eicher, and Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Scott.

At the University club today, Mrs. Eicher entertained a small group of guests at luncheon, complimenting Mrs. Sampson. The afternoon hours were spent informally.

Mrs. Sampson is to be the honoree at a breakfast Sunday morning for which Mr. and Mrs. Scott will be host and hostess at their home.

A DINNER HOST AND HOSTESS at the University club this evening will be Mr. and Mrs. Mel Gulley who have invited eight for dinner. The after dinner hours will be spent with bridge at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gulley.

* * *

IN CELEBRATION of the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Herbert S. Knapp, Mrs. Arthur L. Smith will be a dinner hostess to the members of a birthday club on Monday evening, at the University club. Dinner places will be arranged for twelve, and following dinner the group will remain at the club for an evening of bridge.

* * *

COMING BY PLANE from Columbus, O., today was Lieut. (jg) Wendell Harding, who will spend three days with his family in Lincoln before reporting for duty as recognition officer at the Great Lakes naval training station.

* * *

SPENDING A FEW WEEKS in Lincoln are Mrs. Victor Powers and her small son, Paul, of Denver, who are the guests of Mrs. Powers' parents, Dr. and Mrs. R. O. Kindy.

Stefan Urges Huge Postwar Road Program

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26—(AP)—Agitation is growing in congress for early action on a postwar highway authorization bill for the twin purposes of (1) jobs and (2) adequate transportation.

Rep. Randolph (D-W. Va.) says the legislation would give "returning members of our armed forces and discharged war plant workers the job insurance they have earned." Randolph is the ranking member of the house roads committee.

Rep. Stefan (R-Neb.) says highways "are a casualty of the war" "and failure to recognize that will set back the recovery of this nation many, many long and costly years."

Sees Increased Demands.

Stefan predicts the postwar period will bring "a tremendous demand for transportation facilities, particularly on the highways."

Pending legislation would authorize a $1,500,000,000 highway program. Witnesses who appeared before the house roads committee during a two-month long hearing earlier in the year estimated the program would provide jobs for more than 6,000,000 men directly or indirectly.

Randolph favors highway building as unemployment insurance because he says it "will provide jobs without loss of time and where they are needed."

"As well learned in the last depression," he said in a statement, "highway construction was more quickly gotten under way and it reached peak employment sooner than any other type of construction. We do not know when the first phase of the war will be over, but we do know that we must be prepared to have jobs available, particularly during the reconstruction period."

Farm-to-Market Roads.

Stefan would put improvement of farm-to-market roads high on the proposed program. He calls them "our bread-and-butter roads."

"Extending federal aid on a reasonably large scale to farm-to-market roads," he told the house recently, "is a necessary step in the nation's program to obtain a future of prosperity for all."

State highway commissions, chambers of commerce and other organizations have been pressing for early action on the legislation so that states and cities can make their plans for early execution when men and materials become available.

However, aides of the house roads committee say it is unlikely that the bill can be considered until late September. The house rules committee is to meet September 10 to decide when the measure should be brought up.

Report Paris Freed

still were fighting allied columns and the partisans.

De Gaulle announced the liberation three days after the premature report from his London headquarters.

Addresses Crowds.

Back in the capital after four years of fighting from exile, the president of the French committee of national liberation addressed cheering crowds last night in front of the prefecture in Paris., In his broadcast speech the shouting and singing of the crowd could be heard clearly.

"Paris is free now—freed by the hands of Frenchmen—the capital of fighting France, of France the great eternal," De Gaulle declared.

Earlier the radio said Col. Rouel, commander of the Paris region for the French forces of the interior, had issued this proclamation to his forces:

"FFI of the Ile De France (The Paris region): You have improvised your tactics, animated by the strong desire to win, and you have won."

Announce Surrender.

The German commander surrendered, the broadcast said, to Brig. Gen. Jacques Le Clerc, commanding officer of the French Second armored division, and signed this order:

"The German commander gives orders to the forces under his command to cease fire immediately. Arms are stacked.

"Personnel assembles arms at places to be indicated, and will wait for orders there. Arms have to be delivered intact."

In his broadcast speech, Gen. De Gaulle declared that even though Paris has been liberated and the Germans chased from much of France "we will not rest or be satisfied until we enter—as is only right—upon the enemy's own soil as conquerors."

France, he said, "will take her place among the great nations which will organize the peace."

Mary Kathryn Baker Bride Of Charles E. Shallenberger

Mr. and Mrs. Albert A. Baker announce the marriage of their daughter, Mary Kathryn, to Aviation Cadet Charles E. Shallenberger, son of Mrs. Alice P. Shallenberger of San Diego, Cal., which was solemnized at the Sacred Heart church in San Angelo, Tex., on Saturday, August 19, at 7:30 o'clock in the morning. Only a small group of guests attended the ceremony.

The bride appeared in a gown of white marquisette over satin, designed with the fitted bodice, which had bracelet length sleeves, and a full skirt. Her veil was fingertip length, and was held to the head with a calot of satin, with a front frill of net. She carried a white prayer book, marked with a spray of white carnations, tied with satin ribbon.

Cadet Shallenberger will be graduated and commissioned on September 2, after which he and his bride will spend a fifteen days leave in San Diego. For traveling Mrs. Shallenberger will wear a black and white checked suit, with black accessories.

PERSONALS.

Major Dale Claybaker, nephew of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Koenig of Lincoln, who came from Blackwell, Okla., to be stationed temporarily with a B-29 group at the Lincoln army air field, has been transferred to Texas.

Miss Ethel Owen has returned to Lincoln from California, where she was vacationing, having been called home by the serious illness of her mother, Mrs. Florence Owen.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Peck of Oakland, Cal., arrived last Tuesday to spend ten days as the guests of Mrs. Peck's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Ellis. Mrs. Peck is the former Jane Ellis. Mr. Peck is a government pilot, and carries supplies by plane to various war fronts.

Antonescu Is Under Arrest

. . . MOSCOW RADIO REPORTS

LONDON, Aug. 26— (AP)—Moscow radio announced today that Marshal Ion Antonescu, deposed Romanian premier, is under arrest, taken in hand by the Romanian royal guard of King Mihai.

The same broadcast said Romanian troops had occupied the Carpathian mountain passes.

Bulgaria has assured the soviet government of "absolute neutrality," the broadcast recorded by the soviet monitor said.

It said the Bulgarian prime minister had informed Russia that if German troops enter Bulgaria, Bulgaria will oppose them.

Reported Assassinated.

BERN, Switzerland, Aug. 26—(AP)—A dispatch from the Swiss-Italian border today said Marshal Ion Antonescu, deposed Romanian premier, had been assassinated during the coup d'etat that placed Romania in the allied camp.

The dispatch came from the Swiss telegraph agency which quoted the Italian news agency Stefani. There was no confirmation.

Deaths By Accidents Total 97,500 In 1943

CHICAGO, Aug. 26—(AP)—There was an accidental death every five and one-half minutes and an injury every three seconds during 1943, the National Safety council says reporting a total of 97,500 accidental deaths and 10,100,000 injured.

The accidents, the council estimated, cost the nation $4,900,000,000 and 380,000,000 man-days of work in 1943. The largest single cause of deaths was falls, which took a toll of 27,400 lives. Other major causes were traffic accidents, burns, drowning, railroad, firearms, poison gas and other poisons.

Engagement

Announced Today

MISS NORMA AUKERMAN, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Aukerman, are today announcing her engagement to Cpl. John R. Slothower, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Slothower.

No wedding date has been named.

Both Miss Aukerman and her fiance have attended the University of Nebraska, where Cpl. Slothower is a member of Delta Upsilon fraternity.

Valgene Anderson Bride Of Cpl. Milo W. Barter

Before an improvised altar arranged with white garden flowers in the garden of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Bell of Denver, Colo., Miss Valgene Burnette Anderson, daughter of John C. Anderson of New Bethlehem, Pa., became the bride of Cpl. Milo W. Barter, son of Mr. and Mrs. William V. Barter, on Sunday, July 30. The Rev. Frank E. Wodell read the lines of the double ring ceremony.

Preceding the service, Emil E. O'Neil sang, "I Love You Truly," accompanied by Mrs. Charles D. Bell, pianist, who also played the wedding music.

Attending her niece as matron of honor was Mrs. George H. Hayes, who wore a gown of shell pink chiffon, with a cap and shoulder length veil of matching illusion. Her bouquet was of red roses and white sweetpeas. Miss Lorraine Garramore, flower girl, was frocked in blue silk crepe, with which she wore a halo of blue flowers in her hair.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, George H. Hayes, and appeared in a princess gown of white mousseline de soie, a lace yoke outlining the closely fitted bodice, which was embroidered in seed pearls. The seed pearl motif was repeated in the halo cap which held the finger tip length veil of French illusion, and she carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses and stephanotis.

The best man was George Garramore, and the ushers were Charles D. Bell and Howard S. Himes.

A reception for forty guests was held immediately following the ceremony in the garden of the home of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Hayes.

Cpl. Barter is a former law student of the University of Nebraska and is affiliated with Delta Sigma Pi.

Two High School Students Chosen For Red Cross Camp

Leaving Saturday for a Junior Red Cross camp on Lake Minnetonka, Minn., were Lois Hendrix and Harris Graves. They were elected by the Lancaster County chapter to represent the county's Junior Red Cross members, and were chosen on the basis of public service and Junior Red Cross activity.

The camp is a new project of Red Cross, designed to train Junior Red Cross leadership among high school students. The Lancaster County chapter is one of fifty-five chapters out of 1,572 in this area to be allowed to send representatives to the camp.

Miss Hendrix is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Hendrix, 2421 North Fifty-seventh, and Mr. Graves the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred T. Graves, 1725 Sumner.

"WAR'S END" JUST AROUND THE CORNER?

One of the popular magazines was weighing the probabilities of war's end. Its correspondent in Stockholm, contacting travelers from Germany, found ample evidence of a crushing war weariness among the German people. In detail, he outlined the rise of three opposition groups to a continuance of the nazi regime. He told of new and powerful weapons to be brought into play by the desperate remnants of Hitler's following, but in the end, sitting there on the fringes of Germany, he wound up with the admission that no one knows when the war will end.

Distance to the Moon

It is like trying to measure the distance to the moon. There are a lot of unknowns to be taken into account. In Washington Friday, the White House correspondents tried to exact from President Roosevelt a statement as to when the war would end. Silly questions, but no more silly than a great many questions shot at the president.

Anybody's Guess

Mr. Roosevelt, in reply, came out with the profound observation: "No man living could tell when the war may end." That is one statement of fact which not even Mr. Roosevelt's bitterest enemies could challenge, or later could charge that the man in the White House had deceived the American people, again and again. It was anybody's guess, the president indicated, and all comment upon the collapse of Germany or Japan represented sheer speculation. It is weighing heavily upon the public's mind, so much so that unless Germany does fold up shortly, many millions will find it difficult to adjust themselves to the grim facts of life.

These New Weapons

When he had husked it down, the powerful new weapons mentioned by the magazine man were not new weapons at all but merely new models of old implements of destruction. One was poison gas. He understood the Germans were about to turn it loose in the closing days of August, and would use it against the British and the Americans, particularly the British in their own little isles, by way of airplane and flying bombs, but not against the Russians. He understood Hitler had given it a try in some of his concentration camps. He also understood that the new robot bomb would be showered on the British Isles from runways in Denmark and Norway, already prepared, and possibly even from Germany. They reputedly carry 10 tons of explosive in one shot.

100 A Day In August

Near week's-end, the British minister of health, Henry Willink, warning parents to keep their children out of London, told of shocking property damage and heavy casualties. Throughout August, the Germans have launched an average of 100 flying bombs a day, Willink said. The last official report was contained in Churchill's own statement on August 7, when the British prime minister revealed that the robot bomb up until then had destroyed 17,000 British homes and had damaged 800,000 more, of which 600,000 had been made habitable again. Willink said destruction had increased since Churchill reported. Shortly it will begin to get cold in the British Isles, the housing situation is acute, and the danger of disease and epidemic will be magnified a hundred times. Then there is the reputed super bomb yet to come.

Fighting For Time

These facts are mentioned merely to provide an explanation of present German folly. It has been difficult for military men, who ought to know, to understand the suicidal course upon which elements of the German army have embarked. Whole companies and battalions have been mowed down in the bombardments from the sky and on the ground, yet they keep on fighting. Hitler's ace in the hole may be a belief that his "vengeance" weapons still can salvage something of a face-saving peace for Germany.

This Matter of Gas

Only a pack of lunatics would initiate gas warfare. It is a double-edged sword and while it can inflict ghastly casualties upon the civilian populations and the armies of the united nations, the allies, in control of the skies, could make Germany thoroughly sick of its bargain.

No Orthodox End

If there is as much potential dynamite in Germany as correspondents say there is, the end of the war may not be marked by any orthodox pattern. Instead, its closing days may see chaos in Germany itself—one group fighting another, the Prussian militarists arrayed against nazi leaders, the gastapo and the SS forces battling the regular German army—chaos and anarchy. If it follows the pattern of the German defeat in France, some elements will surrender and still other elements will fight on to the death. That is what has happened in France in the last month. A battalion, company or regiment would lay down its arms while still another manned its guns until the last man was wiped out. Apparently, it was a case of to what degree the nazi infection had taken hold. But it is all guesswork, and possibly dangerous guesswork.

One Moscow View

For example, one highly-placed Moscow military view said recently there was little chance of defeating Germany in a military sense before the summer of 1945. That presumed the possibility either that the British and the Americans, or the Russians or all three would keep at it until they had reached Berlin.

Developments in the Balkans throughout the week were of greater importance, perhaps, then even the astounding victories on the battlefields. The Balkans were breaking up. Near the close of the week, Bulgaria, always closer in spirit to Russia than to Germany, appeared to be on the way out. Romania, with a policy blatantly based upon the most favorable bargaining, had had enough of it as an axis satellite and was turning upon Hungary. The latter wanted peace itself, but the Romanian threat easily might solidify its adherence to the axis. There were so many possibilities that not even the most seasoned diplomats in neutral countries wanted to risk their reputations by venturing an opinion. Yet in all of the cross currents, it appeared possible that a number of smaller wars might provide the sideshow for the main event.

Retreat Or Die

Hitler and his general staff must come to some some quick decision. They must make up their minds what they are going to do in Albania, Greece and Yugoslavia. Whatever forces they have there can retreat only over precipitous mountain passes to German territory to the north, and winter comes very early to the mountains of southeastern Europe. If they intend to get out, they will have to pull up stakes immediately, for only a few weeks remain until the mountain passes become choked with snow and retreat would be impossible. Abandonment of those countries would tear at Hitler's pride, but it also would strengthen his home defenses in the final struggle if he decides to go on to the end. By the time he has gathered up his divisions from Greece, Albania, Yugoslavia, the remaining islands of the Mediterranean that he retains, Finland, the escaping forces from the Baltic states, Norway, Denmark, and possibly Holland and Belgium, he is going to have still very considerable forces for his final stand.

The Costly Delay

What would have been the tides of war if a year ago Hitler had drawn in his battlelines in the spirit of wise military leadership and made it a strictly defensive fight in favorable positions near the fronters of the Reich? Again, that is a matter of guess work. But had he bent all his energies to constructing great defenses in great depth near those frontiers, and had he manned them with all of the strength he then possessed, it would have entailed infinitely greater difficulties than the united nations face under Hitler's determination to retire only when compelled to do so.

Some Strong Allies

Hitler has been an unconscious ally of the united nations. His arrogance, his insane pride, his absurd boasting, his complete indifference to the common, ordinary rules of caution have contributed powerfully to his defeat. That defeat no longer embraces a question. It is sure and certain. But until Hitler actually raises his hand in surrender or until the Greater Reich explodes, the peoples of the united nations will be adopting the course of prudence to recognize that the war may stretch on into weeks or months.

Long-Stored Hate

Beyond the brilliant successes of allied armies, another development drew attention. At last, the long pent-up hatred of oppressed people in occupied lands had broken into flames. No seven days of the entire conflict has seen such savage fighting as that which developed between the Germans and their Quislings in conquered nations against the rising patriotic forces of those countries. In that fighting there was no quarter. It was all or nothing.

Supplemental Brief Opposes Writ For Pair

Attorney General Walter R. Johnson submitted a supplemental brief in Supreme court citing additional authorities to support his claim that Leslie Williams and Joe Bennett, convicted postoffice robbers, are not entitled to a writ of habeas corpus.

Williams and Bennett have been persistent in applications for writs of habeas corpus and have so far been regularly denied this right.

The state of Nebraska also filed a brief supporting its contention Irving Tail, convicted of murder in Sheridan county is not entitled to freedom on a writ of habeas corpus.

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

Buster Bear's Wisdom.

The truly wise their feelings hide
And when they must will swallow pride.
—Old Mother Nature.

Buster Bear was going berrying. Yes, sir, Buster was on his way to feast on berries. Buster loves the berry season. Every day he feasts on berries, blueberries, blackberries, raspberries, whichever are most abundant and easiest to get. He was shuffling along a little path which was the right of way of all who came that way along a certain ledge in the Green Forest. Being so big, and having such great teeth and claws, Buster is accustomed to having everybody get out of his way. The only one he fears is Man, and it isn't really Man himself but his terrible gun that Buster fears.

His pleasant thoughts were brought to an abrupt end by a sharp whirring sound that brought him to an equally abrupt stop. He knew that sound and he knew it for just what it was, a warning to be careful. It was the rattle of Buzztail the Rattlesnake, one of the Poison People.

"So that fellow is out. Why can't he stay in his den among the rocks," growled Buster as he began to look this way and that way.

Then he saw Buzztail. He was right in the path, where the ledge was narrowest. It was the sunniest spot anywhere about, and Buzztail was taking a sun bath there. "Get out of my way," growled Buster.

"Who'll make me?" hissed Buzztail, shaking his rattle until it was a wonder it didn't shake off.

"This path is free to all who want to use it," growled Buster.

"I'm using it," hissed Buzztail just as he had to Prickly Porky

Buster sat down again

the Porcupine a little while before.

"You could get out of my way long enough for me to pass," said Buster in something more of a whine than a growl.

"I could but I won't," hissed Buzztail.

"I want to cross to where the berries are," whined Buster.

"Go around," hissed Buzztail.

Buster sat down again. He sat there swinging his head from side to side and whining. He took a step toward Buzztail. The latter shook his rattle harder than ever. He drew back his head in position to strike. Buster lifted a foot as if to take another step, changed his mind, turned and shuffled back the way he had come, whining and complaining.

The three young Coons watched him out of sight.

"He didn't care," said one.

"I guess if such a big fellow as that is afraid to make that fellow in the path get out of his way there isn't anybody who dares try it," said another.

DIET AND HEALTH

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D., Author of "The Human Body"

RAISING FALSE HOPES; PIPE DREAM ABOUT YOUTHFUL VITALITY

The other night I was reading "Invitation to Health," which is the Life Extension Institute's program for restoring everybody over forty to youth and vitality. It might take as its motto Bottom's speech in Midsummer Night's Dream—"I have a device to make all well." In fact the book might have been called "A Midsummer Night's Dream."

Incidentally there is one little error of judgment in the composition of the book: on page 150 they list the original board of directors, and, as my colleague, Miss Isabel Patterson, of the New York Herald-Tribune, pointed out, and she is no deep student of medical science, nearly all the directors are dead. As I recall also the first medical director of the institute, Dr. Eugene Lyman Fish, died at a comparatively early age, around 60, right after he had written an article showing that everyone could live to be 90. It seems like bad publicity if they could do it, for the Life Extension Institute not to have extended its life extending to its own directors.

Well, this old fellow, who has the book preparatory to reviewing it, which I did yesterday in this column, the telephone rang and an old friend of mine, aged 75, was on the other end of the line and so excited he could barely splutter, and wanted to know whether I had seen Paul de Kruif's article in the Reader's Digest on Prolonging Man's Prime by the use of testosterone. You see this is the same subject as that of the Life Extension Institute.

False Hopes.

Well, this old fellow who has failed a good deal lately and whose arteries must be like whip cords, and who can't remember much of anything, and who is deaf, but, I understand won't spend the money for a hearing device, though the doctors have determined he is just the right kind to have such a device do him some good—he was all buoyed up by the hope that testosterone was going to put him back in the sophomore class. That's the pity of such announcements—they inspire a lot of jubilant hopes that must eventually be dashed.

As to testosterone, in the first place it is not new. I have a full account of it in a text book on treatment I wrote and published in January 1943. So Paul de Kruif is not bringing any hot message to Garcia. And in the second place, it does not turn old men young. Its principle value is in certain glandular troubles of young boys. The most it has ever done for old men is to mitigate the vigours of the male climacteric.

But in the meantime there is an established glandular treatment that really peps up a lot of elderly men and women, and that is thyroid extract. I asked my old friend, Dr. Adrian Gibbs, a few months ago how he managed to keep so young and active and he said—"A quarter grain of thyroid extract now and then is relished by the best of men and women over 60."

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only and then only through his column.

Lawmakers In Mood Recess

...Sept. 15 Until Election

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26—(INS)—Congressional leaders pointed today toward a recess from about Sept. 15 until after the November election as the senate sent a surplus property bill to conference.

The measure, which passed last night, drastically changed a bill approved by the house for disposition of surplus war goods, which may reach a total of 100 billion dollars at the end of the war.

Sen. Johnson (D-Colo.), in charge of the bill in the senate, predicted a 10-day conference before senate-house differences are ironed out.

House To Act Next Week

The house plans to act next week on the senate-approved bill to guarantee solvency of state unemployment insurance systems and create a director or demobilization as a means of speeding reconversion. With completion of these bills, leaders said, congress can again recess.

The senate surplus property bill sets up a board of eight to fix policies for sale or disposition of surplus goods, but provided many specific directions.

It channels disposition of millions of acres of land in the interior and agriculture departments, gives states and political subdivisions priority and a 50 per cent discount on most purchases, such as army cantonments and electric transmission lines; and curbs sale of surplus war minerals by requiring the war department to maintain a huge stockpile in event of another war.

40 Boy Scouts Attend Golden Sun Meet Here

Forty Boy Scouts, selected from about 33 thousand Scouts throughout the state, met Friday afternoon for their annual Golden Sun pow-wow session in Lincoln. The pow-wow will continue through Sunday.

Recognition will be given to outstanding leaders and campers selected from about 1,000 boys in camp. John Frerichs, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Frerichs, 2990 Sheridan Blvd., is president.

Eagle Scout Award.

Robert C. Sneller, 18, Hastings, qualified for Eagle scout and will be awarded a badge before going into the navy Monday. New scout officers will be elected Sunday, Executive Frank Chase announced.

Lincoln Scouts to be initiated into Golden Sun include: Bill Greer, troop 2; Paul Johnson, troop 43; Bruce Deal, troop 4; Stanley Marcotte, troop 43; and Jack Loudon, troop 43.

S. B. Marcotte, scoutmaster of troop 43; Ward Betzer, scoutmaster of troop 16; and Erven Brezina, field executive, are also to be inducted.

Other new members attending are: Ernest Marsh and Bob Sneller, troop 201, Hastings; Harold Robertson, troop 221, Beatrice; Lavern Schafer, Stanley Thornton, Bob Cottingham, all of troop 119, Grand Island; and Stanley Larkin, troop 295, North Platte.

For The Baby

By MRS. ANNE CABOT

It's a perfectly darling little jacket—made like an old-fashioned "sacque." Crocheted in circular fashion, it's done all in one piece. To form the sleeves you just lace up the under-arms with satin ribbon and tie in a neat bow. Tiny rosebud sprays are embroidered on the completed jacket in pastel silk floss in pastel shades. This "no-seam" jacket has been so popular that I'm now having a bed-jacket for brides and young mothers made to match it. It will appear in this column in six weeks or so.

Chapter 28

In the living room, Angel stood at the window and watched the cab go down the street. Louise remained standing in the doorway where Martha had left her, her hands clasped to a face drained of all color. So much was clear to her now—Angel's cruel indifference, her complete lack of feeling regarding the child. Louise could understand that. Angel had always been selfish. But why had she done this? It wasn't like Angel to assume the care of a child, no matter how much money was involved.

"How can you live with yourself?" Louise blurted out at last. "And why did you do it?"

Angel still stood with her back turned. "Why did I do it?" she repeated, ignoring the first question. "If you must know, I was broke at the time. And a hundred a month—that's what Barbara promised to pay—sounded pretty good to me. How did I know she'd dash off to Arizona and leave me stuck with the child?" She turned now and faced Louise. "And how did I know you'd left Forest Hills, and that my mail wouldn't be forwarded?"

That afternoon Angel received a telegram. It Informed her that Jimmie Saunders was no longer missing. He had slipped away from an enemy prison camp, and was at that very moment recuperating in a hospital overseos.

With a vague sense of shame she noticed the feeling of panic that swept over her. "I'm glad about Jimmie—but what about me?" She wondered if now, without being a widow, she could make good in her newest and best-yet night club job . . .

Angel spared herself all she could in the telling, explaining to Louise and later to Martha all about herself.

She said Elsa Rand had been her roommate in the girls' school they'd both attended in the South. That Elsa had been arrogant and jealous. That she had been particularly boastful about the handsome young aviator to whom she was engaged. It seemed only natural—to Angel—that she should take Elsa down a peg. Only fair that she should make a play for Jimmie Saunders when he came unexpectedly to see Elsa, and Elsa was away for the week-end. Only human that he should fall in love with Angel, and that three days after their first meeting they should run away to a little town in Virginia and get morried. According to Angel, it served Elsa right.

The marriage, she had to confess, had been a mistake. Both she and Jimmie had realized that almost immediately. Even before he went overseas, plans for a quiet divorce were being made. Now that he was coming back, it would come through. And he would marry Elsa, just as they'd planned.

Yes, she had told Martha and Louise evetrything—and they had not turned away from her. True, Martha had been shocked, but the only comment she had made was, "Poor Angel."

She had a brief moment of misgiving when she recalled Baby Jeanne, and the fact that she had written to Jimmie's parents and tried to pass her off as Jimmie's child. They hadn't believed her—and she could only hope they wouldn't tell Jimmie about Baby Jeanne.

Martha brought the coffee and put it on the dressing table in front of Angel, then left the room. For a long time Angel sat staring at her reflection, smiling a little ruefully. Then she began to put on her makeup. She would use very little today, and she would wear her simplest black dress, the black coat left over from last year, and the plain little hat with the veil. It was no cocktail date that she was going to, as she had told Martha. It was an appointment with Jimmie's lawyer. It would be a little difficult for her—but she was sure there would be a nice settlement. Jimmie himself wasn't poor—and Jimmie himself, she was frank to acknowledge, was a very grand person. It was really too bad their marriage hadn't worked out. . .

"But some day he'll come back" —she smiled at herself in the mirror — "and he won't be ashamed for people to know that once he was married to me. I'll be singing at the smartest night club in town—with my name in lights on the marquee. He'll be married to Elsa, and they'll come to the club where I'm singing. But I won't snoot them. I'll sing something sweet and sentimental. Something old — Thanks for the Memories, perhaps. It wouldn't hurt to give that self-satisfied Elsa a jolt.

She drank the black coffee which Martha had brought and began hurriedly to dress, humming softly as she did so, She had reasoned herself out of what might have been a very black mood, and was feeling rather virtuous about the whole thing.

Lt. GEORGE B. STEINMEYER, son of Mrs. B. F. Steinmeyer, Clatonia, received his pilot's wings August 4 at Pecos, Tex., and is now stationed at Hobbs, New Mex., receiving B-17 bomber pilot training. He attended the University of Nebraska where he was affiliated with Phi Delta Theta fraternity. Before entering the service, he was associated with the Bank of America in California.

Now serving in England is T. 5/c GERALD L. HAASE, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Haase, 2035 South Twenty-seventh street.

Beginning his training at the U.S. naval training center at Great Lakes is CHARLES F. CAMPBELL, JR., son of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Campbell, 1320 Rose.

Home on a 12-day furlough after four years in the Pacific theater of war is S/Sgt. DWAINE L. MOORE, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Moore, Ulysses. He wears the air medal and oak leaf clusters, and has seen 300 hours of combat action in the air. He is visiting his sisters, Martha McCord and Mrs. Scott Ogliesby, who live at Twenty-third and O streets.

Lt. PAUL WHITE is assigned to duty with the infantry stationed in the Panama Canal zone, according to notification from his headquarters. Lt. WHITE'S wife, Mrs. Carol Gillen White, lives at 1329 F street, and before his entrance into the service he was affiliated with the law firm of Laughlin, Slocum and White.

Mrs. Nellie Merritt, 4103 Baldwin street, was notified Saturday that her nephew, RAY FRY, who enlisted in the armed forces at Seward and is now seeing action in France, had been wounded. He is the son of Mrs. Daisy Fry, San Diego, Calif.

Alliance Base Under Command 2nd Air Force

. . . September 1

ALLIANCE, Aug. 26 — (AP) — The army air base here will be transferred from the First troop carrier command to the Second air force on Sept. 1, Maj. V. D. Strong, commanding officer, said here today.

Maj. Strong, who succeeds Col. Tracy K. Dorsett, said that the Scottsbluff, Neb., army air field, which is a satellite to the base here, also will be affected by the transfer and will remain a satellite of the Alliance field.

Training Base.

The new commander, formerly base operations officer here, said that he had not been informed of the details of the transfer but that the Alliance base would be used for "some type of training." This, he indicated, might involve either bomber or fighter planes. He added that the type of training would determine to what extent the Scottsbluff field would be used in its status as a satellite.

Personnel of the base here has already been transferred to the Second air force with headquarters at Colorado Springs, Colo., Maj. Strong said, and operations have been curtailed for the present until the Second air force transfers new men and equipment to the field.

BRAIN TWIZZLERS

By. Prof. J. D. Flint

A farmer boy was anxious to fix his tractor all up for the county fair. His first move was to locate an old piece of lattice work which he planned to put on the front of the tractor. Finally he got it all set and then decided to get some color into the thing by having some of the squares colored. He cut some colored cardbard squares and wired them onto the lattice and got the desired effect but it made the motor hot by shutting out the air so he experimented until he had only twelve of the thirty-six squares colored. To give a bizarre effect he worked it out so that only two squares in each row horizontally, vertically and diagonally were colored. Can you plot it out that way?

ANSWER TO YESTERDAY'S TWIZZLER

Horse No. 4 won the race. Number 3 was 75 ft. behind No. 6. Number 2 was 75 ft. behind No. 4. Number 5 was 145 ft. ahead of No. 1. Number 1 was 100 ft. behind No. 6. Number 3 was 120 ft. behind No. 5.

Police Stage Mass Raids In Finn Capital

. . . Examine Identification Papers

NEW YORK, Aug. 26—(AP)—Finnish police blocked all roads leading out of Helsinki at dawn yesterday and staged mass raids through the capital until early this morning, the Finnish radio said today in a broadcast that failed to offer any explanation of the action.

The broadcast, recorded by FCC monitors, sad "results have been very satisfactory" and that "about 500 people were interrogated as their identity papers were not in order."

"Since the raid continued into the early hours of this morning, further details will be made known later," the broadcast said, adding that Minister of the Interior Kaarlo Henrik Hillilae "expressed his satisfaction at the manner in which the raids were carried out."

All ships entering harbors and trains reaching stations were inspected, the broadcast said.

Slogan Contest

OMAHA, Aug. 26—(AP)—The Omaha junior chamber of commerce announced today it will sponsor a contest for the most effective slogan designed to stimulate voting in the November general election. A $50 war bond will be the prize.

Oleomargarine Tax Attacked In High Court

. . . Omahan Files Brief

Attack on the state oleomargaine law that imposes a tax of 15 cents a pound on any imitation butter that contains less than 50 per cent of animal fats or oils was renewed in Supreme court when Attorneys Wear, Boland & Nye of Omaha filed a brief for Theodore Thorin, a grocer of that city, naming basis for allegations the law is unconstitutional.

The suit was filed July 2, 1942, as an original action in Supreme court against Allen Burke, then head of the state department of agriculture, the law's administrator.

Alleges Discrmimination.

It alleges the plaintiff wants to sell oleomargarine made up in large part of vegetable fats and oils, some of which was imported. The 15 cent tax is alleged discriminatory as imposing undue burden on interstate commerce, levying an impost on foreign fats and oils, is in fact an arbitrary prohibition of the sale of useful and harmless articles; creates a monopoly for producers of oleomargarine conforming to the law; and is class legislation.

The brief says the law was passed to destroy the foreign vegetable oil threat, notably cocoanut oil that once came from the Philippines and elsewhere. As a revenue measure, the brief says the law is a "dud," for it bars out the cheaper product entirely.

See Post-War Danger.

Right now, officials of the state department of agriculture say, with war taking so much of all kinds of fats and oils, the reason for the law is not so imperative. After the war, however, old conditions will return and producers of cottonseed oil, soy bean oil and other substances of like character will become active in finding an outlet for these products. Nebraska as a dairy state, officials say, will always oppose anything that threatens any of the products of its cattle industry, be they animal fats and oils or real butter.

Depositions have been taken in the case, but no real evidence of use of cocoanut oil or imported oils in oleomargarine sold in Nebraska has been proved, it is alleged.

The brief contends, however, that destruction of this foreign importaton was the reason for passage of the act. It holds competent chemcal testimony proves there is no difference in nutritional value or body, texture, flavor, color, usability or digestibility between the oleomargarines made from animal fats or those from vegetable oils or fats.

Accuses 'Bloc.'

The brief adds: "This act didn't just happen. Somebody had an axe to grind and that fellow was shooting at a distinct kind of competition. Why mince words? The only reasonable inference about the origin of this act and its sponsorship through the legislature of 1931 is that it was designed by and passed through the efforts of the producers of the nontaxes types of oleomargarine."

When the bill was passed, less than 10 per cent of all the oils and fats used in the production of oleomargarine in the United States consisted of domestic vegetable oils, says the brief, therefore its purpose was "to destroy competition" and "to maintain an animal fat oleomargarine producers' monopoly."

Boyd Tax Levy Down

BUTTE, Neb., Aug. 26—(AP)—Boyd county supervisors have fixed the 1944 levy at 4.14 mills, a decrease of .72 of a mill from the 1943 levy. The total amount to be raised for county purposes in 1944 will be $31,323.55 while in 1943 it was $38,920.61.

Stolen Auto Spotted

HASTINGS—(AP)—Police here started looking for an automobile stolen last May from Mrs. Emil R. Guendel of Grand Island. This week they found it parked near Mary Lanning hospital here. They didn't know Mrs. Guendel recovered the car 12 hours after it was stolen in May and had parked it by the hospital a few hours before they spotted it.

Senate Wants Farmers To Buy All The Jeeps They Want After War

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26—(INS) The senate wants farmers to get all the jeeps they want after the war.

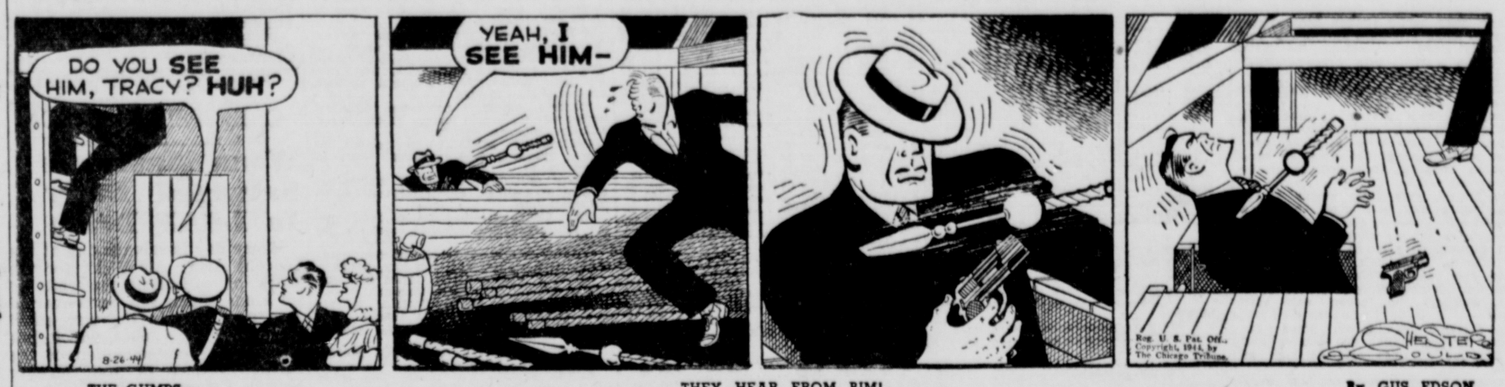

It adopted an amendment to the surplus property bill to this effect. The surplus property board would be required to make jeeps available for purchase for farm use.

Anticipating a huge demand the senate directed that they be allocated among states. The allocation would be based one-third on population, one-third on the mileage of federal highways and one-third on area.

Sen. William Langer (R-ND), who introduced the amendment, predicted a huge demand among farmers for jeeps.

Chicago Livestock

(W. F. A.)

CHICAGO, Aug. 28—(AP)—

There were hardly enough hogs offered today to make a market and prices were nominally steady at ceiling. The cattle and sheep markets also were nominally steady.

Salable receipts were 500 hogs, 300 cattle and 2,500 sheep.

Compared with Friday of last week strictly good and choice steers were strong. All others were fully 25 cents higher and active at the close. In some instances common and medium grades were up 50 cents.

Fat heifers were fully steady to 25 cents higher and beef cows showed a 25 to 50 cent advance. Strongweight canners and all cutters shared the upturn. Light canners were up 25 cents but under pressure. Bulls were 25 to 40 cents higher and vealers were steady at $15 down. Cull weighty calves were 50 cents lower. Stockers and feeders were very scarce.

The demand was fairly broad for weighty feeders, scaling 800 pounds and up. Half-fat offerings sold as high as $14.35.

Compared with Friday of last week the sheep market closed with native spring lambs 25 to mostly 50 cents higher. Shorn fed yearlings were strong to 25 cents higher and shorn slaughter ewes were fully steady. Late sales of good and choice native spring lambs were made at $14.50 to $14.85 with bucks discounted a dollar. Good and choice Washington springers brought from $15 to $15.40 for three doubles averaging 92 pounds.

CATTLE—Salable, 300; calves, 100; compared Friday last week, strictly good and choice steers strong, all others fully 25 higher, closing active, instances 50 up on common and medium grades; fat heifers fully 25 higher; beef cows showed 25 to 50 advance, with strongweight canners and all cutters sharing advance; light canners 25 up but still under pressure; bulls 25 to 40 higher; vealers steady at $15.00 down, but cull weighty calves 50 lower; stockers and feeders very scarce, thin light kinds closing firm, however; demand fairly broad for 80 feeders scaling 800 lbs. upward, half-fat offerings to $14.35; common and medium thin stockers, $8.00@10.50; top fed steers, $18.35, several loads scaling 1,225 to 1,435 lbs. at that price; next highest, $18.25; considerable buyer pressure on choice cattle selling at and above $18.00; best yearlings, $18.25; heifer yearlings, $17.50; bulk fat steers grading medium to choice, $13.50@18.00; common offerings, $9.75@11.50; bulk fat heifers, $13.00@17.00; with western grassers up to $13.50; cutter cows closed at $7.25 down, with light canners at $5.25, these having sold as low as $4.50 during week; wintered beef cows up to $14.00; good northwestern grassers to $13.25; heavy sausage bulls to $11.50, but most light and medium weight grass bulls, $8.00@9.75.

SHEEP—Salable, 2,500; total, 4,500; compared Friday last week, market closing with native spring lambs 25 to mostly 50 higher; shorn fed yearlings strong to 25 higher; shorn slaughter ewes fully steady, late sales good and choice native spring lambs, $14.50@14.85 with bucks discounted $1.00; good and choice Washington springers, $15.00@15.40 for three doubles 92-lb. averages in today's trade; shorn fed Arizona springers averaging 86 lbs., $12.75; Montana range ewes at $5.25 straight for two doubles with part load 133 lb. Washington ewes $5.50; native slaughter ewes topped at $5.25, with most medium, good and choice mixed at $4.75; cull and common, $2.50@4.00; feeding lambs and breeding ewes absent.

Kansas City Livestock

(W. F. A.)

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 26—(AP)—

HOGS—Salable and total 100; not enough offered to test values, market nominally steady; for the week generally steady on all weights and sows selling at their respective ceiling.

CATTLE—Salable 100; total 1,200; calves salable 100; total 300; compared close of last week: slaughter classes steady to 25c higher; bulls and vealers steady, stocker and feeders and steers strong to 25c higher; heifers, cows and calves steady; good and choice grain-fed steers, $15.00@17.40; several loads medium and good grassers, $13.00@14.25; wintered 1275 lbs., $15.40; bulk common and medium beef cows, $7.50@10.00; few good, $11.00@12.50, good and choice 950-1125 lb. feeder steers, $13.00@75; most good steers 800 lbs., down, $9.25@11.90.

SHEEP—Salable none, total 2,000; for the week killing classes steady, top native spring lambs, $14.50; bulk good and choice trucked in natives, $14.25; closing top trucked in $14.10; top yearlings, $12.25; good and choice shipments, $11.50 @12.00; top slaughter ewes, $5.00.

Wheat Closes ⅛ - ⅝c Higher

Wheat and rye held firm in light trading today but oats were under pressure from commission houses and local traders and the market was weak.

Resting demand for December wheat at $1.53½ steadied the market along with the buying of the May contract by houses with northwestern connections.

Generally, the wheat trade was slow with some selling of the September against purchases of December at around two cents difference in price.

Rye moved within a narrow range, reflecting indecision on the part of traders. Buying of September rye was credited to an outstanding local operator and the nearby contract yas relative firm. Commission houses sold fair amounts of December rye at $1.50½, then the offerings dwindled and prices advanced.

The demand for oats was limited to resting orders. Lowering of the Canadian export tax and large northwestern receipts were factors in the trade.

At the close wheat was ⅛ to ⅝c higher than yesterday's finish, September, $1.55⅞@¾. Oats were off ¼ to ⅞c, September 69½@⅝. Rye was unchanged to ½c higher, September $1 07¼. Barley was unchanged to ¾c lower, September $1.14⅛.

Disposition Of U. S. Fleet Was Never Discussed

. . . WITH JAP PEACE ENVOYS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26—(AP)—The state department declared today that the Japanese peace envoys in the immediate pre-Pearl Harbor period never raised any question about the disposition of American naval forces.

The department issued a statement in comment on assertions made by Rep. Magnuson (D-Wash.) in his home state.

The representative told the Seattle Post-Intelligencer there were reports both in Washington and on the Pacific coast that "the Japs made a 'patsy' out of the state department, contriving to have our fleet bottled up in Pearl Harbor where it could easily be dealt "a death blow," in 1941.

Rich Prize To Winner Turf Race

CHICAGO, Aug. 26—(INS)—The thirty-fourth running of the American Derby at Washington Park today was expected to determine the runnerup to Twilight Tear, winner of 11 of her 13 starts, for top honors among the nation's three-year-olds.

The Calumet Farm's entry of Pensive and Miss Keeneland and Alfred Parker's By Jimminy were established as overnight favorites at odds of six to five in the small field of six entries in the mile and one-quarter $50,000 added event. The winner will take down $62,400 of a gross purse of $80,950.

A win for either Pensive, Kentucky Derby and Preakness Stakes victor, or By Jimminy, winner of the Travers, Dwyer and Shevlin Stakes, will leave no argument as to which is the better colt.

Race followers foresaw a possibility that the track record of 2:04, held jointly by Cavalcade and Whirlaway, might be lowered if the track remains fast.

Roundup

BY HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK, Aug. 26—(AP)—Overseas sports roundup:

European theater—Athletes of the 29th division in Normandy have been doing even better on the battlefield than in sports areans...Lieut. Forrest Ferguson, former footballer from Tallahassee, Fla., won a distinguished service cross for heroism under fire on D-day and T/Sgt. Bill Dircks of Baltimore, divisional heavyweight boxing champion, won a bronze star in an encounter with a houseful of snipers . . . Capt. Taylor Drysdale, former Michigan swimming star, won the 100-yard backstroke in 1:18 and led two victorious army relay teams in a recent swim meet in London . . . And Col. Ray Stecker, former West Point football star and an advocate of athletics for army personnel, demonstrated the value of sports recently when he pitched a headquarters official softball team to a 2-1 victory over the enlisted men and clouted a home run to win his own game.

JUST like home...T/Sgt. Billy Goodrich, who used to write sports in Brooklyn, reports from a Pacific island: "Now I know how it feels to be yelled at: 'Kill The Umpire!'...A few days ago I worked my first ball game as an umpire...From now on, my sympathies will be with the umps... Gosh, such razzing"...Two former college football stars now serving with marine aviation units who recently got together in the South Pacific are Captains Ernie Nevers (Stanford) and Dick Fishell (Syracuse).

GETTING his wish...Writing from somewhere in Italy, Lt. Jerry Karver, former Penn State miler, said he hoped to engage in service track meets soon, such as the big one in Rome he had heard about...At the rate American troops are traveling in France, Jerry may be getting some good cross country workouts.

Nebraska Briefs

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The civil service commission has announced that applications will be received until the close of business Sept. 14 for the following postmastership at Wallace, Neb.

NELIGH—(AP)—Jimmy Judd, Neligh mechanic, reported landing a 21¾-pound mud catfish near the Elkhorn river dam here. This is four pounds over the previous record catch, local fishermen said. The fish was 38 inches long.

NORTH PLATTE—(AP)—Lincoln county's reserve grand champion 4-H baby beef, exhibited by Joan Durner of Wellfleet, was sold for $24.25 per hundred pounds at the annual 4-H livestock auction here. The animal was an Angus heifer.

OMAHA—(AP)—Pen and chute facilities at the South Omaha stock yards have been expanded and improved in anticipation of a flood of beef from western ranges, it has been announced. The heavy influx of range cattle is under way earlier than usual and an increase of 20 per cent or more is expected during the fall, officials said. Favorable corn prospects have resulted in an increase in the number of range cattle moving into feedlots, they added.

OMAHA—(AP)—Maj. Gen. C. A. Danielson, commander of the Seventh service command, and members of his staff and Col. Earle J. Johnson, national civil air patrol commander, were scheduled Saturday to visit the annual CAP wing mobilization at Ashland. Lt. Col. Harry B. Sidles, CAP state commander, and Brig. Gen. Guy N. Henninger, state adjutant, also were expected to attend the ceremonies.

OMAHA—(AP)—District OPA Director John G. Aldrich said Gordon Roberts, vice president and general manager of Roberts Dairy company here, has been appointed a member of the fluid milk advisory committee for OPA region six, comprising Nebraska, Iowa, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, North and South Dakota and Lake County, Indiana.

OMAHA — (AP) — Joseph O. Burger, Omaha attorney, said he has petitions bearing more than 1,200 signatures supporting his candidacy for a district judgeship in the November election. Burger said he expects to file the petitions with the secretary of state in Lincoln by Sept. 1. The death of District Judge John A. Rine this week left only 12 candidates for the nine district judgeships.

GRAND ISLAND—(AP) — Ida L. Langenheder, Grand Island, who served in France during the last world war and returned to duty in 1941 to serve with troops in Iceland, has been promoted to lieutenant colonel in the army nurses corps, relatives here said. She is now stationed at Fort Jackson, S. C.

Worn Materials Salvaged Daily In LAAF Drive

Every day is salvage day at the Lincoln Army Air Field, for the work of collecting materials of all kinds which can be converted into new uses in the war effort progresses at a pace which has earned the commendation of the salvage officer of the Seventh Service Command. "No finer cooperation in the matter of salvage is given by any installation within the command than that of the Lincoln Army Air Field," he said.

Paper of all kinds is high on the list. Every day mobile units furnished by the field's guard squadron make the rounds of the installation and collect newspapers, magazines, cardboard containers, wrapping and other paper. At the salvage yard, the different types of paper are sorted and baled, to leave in carload lots at frequent intervals for contracting factories which will reconvert it into every type of much-needed paper product for the use of the armed forces.

Dismantled Aircraft.

Metals of all kinds—cast and sheet aluminum, iron, steel, copper—are obtained from dismantled aircraft. All cans used in the field's numerous mess halls are flattened before being picked up by the salvage trucks.

Mess halls make a large contribution to the conservation and salvage program by rendering all usable fats which can then be used in cooking. Only fats and grease which can no longer be used are turned in for salvage. This policy has made it possible for the mess halls to requisition only a fraction of the cooking fats allotted to them. Bones, too, are used to make nourishing soups, and are then sold to contractors to be ground and used for fertilizer.

Lumber, Rubber.

Vitally important rubber from every part of the field finds its way to the salvage pard, and later to the Aksarben depot, just north of Omaha. Lumber is also a prime consideration in the salvage work.

The coming winter will find many destitute victims of war in foreign countries warmly clad through the wool salvaged at Lincoln Army Air Field and other military establishments. Overcoats, blankets, comforters, shirts and socks no longer serviceable are collected and sent to the lend-lease procurement division in Washington, for conversion into much-needed clothing abroad.

All monies received from the work of the field's salvage organization is turned over to the treasury of the United States, so that in addition to material being used again to help win the war, Uncle Sam receives actual cash for it.

Blanks For Browns In Series Opener

—BUT BOSTON'S RED SOX LOSE TWIN BILL—

BY JACK HAND.

NEW YORK, Aug. 26—(AP)—Eighteen scoreboard goose eggs stared the St. Louis Browns in the face today as the league leaders tackled the surging Detroit Tigers in the second game of a "crooshul" series, with the Yankees breathing defiance in a new threat.

Six of the eight teams in the American league changed places yesterday when New York took over second spot only 4½ games off the pace and the Tigers shoved into a third-place tie with Boston.

Dizzy Trout gave the Brownies plenty of nothing with a neat four-hit whitewash job, 1-0, doubling the string of zeroes hatched by Washington's Johnny Niggeling Tuesday night.

Double Steal Did It.

It took a double steal, engineered by Joe Hoover and Eddie Mayo, to beat Denny Galehouse, who matched Trout's work pitch for pitch in the first seven innings. Dizzy became the first American league hurler to toss four shutouts.

The Brownies had been blanked only seven times all season, but this second successive job, coming when the club had lost six of its last seven, was a particularly damaging blow to the all-St. Louis series plans.

New York tamed the Washington Senators, but it took 11 innings to do it, 4-2. Three walks, an error and an infield out won for the Yanks in overtime.

Boston's Hopes Slump.

Boston's pennant hopes faded in a double setback at Philadelphia, 6-1 and 9-4.

Kenny Keltner became the twenty-third major leaguer to hit a grand slam homer this year when he connected for the second time in Cleveland's 10-2 romp over Chicago.

Mel Ott's Giants hopped back into the National league first division on four successive victories by slaughtering Brooklyn, 10-2, as Chicago was shut out by Cincinnati, 2-0.

Pittsburgh's victory splurge was halted at six straight and 17 of 18 games when the rampaging St. Louis Cardinals shut out the Pirates, 4-0.

Ron Northey's bases-loaded homer gave the Phillies a first game 9-7 edge over Boston, but the Braves steadied to even the score in the finale, 4-3.

Nelson Leads In Links Classic

—Lord Byron Shoots Six Under Par—

BY L. E. SKELLEY.

CHICAGO, Aug. 26—(AP)—Byron Nelson, the golf perfectionist, was back in a familiar spot today—leading the field.

The tall Texan was in front of the pack at the half-way mark of the All-American open tournament at Tam O'Shanter Country club and headed for a $13,462.50 payoff — golfdom's biggest prize.

Nelson, remarking he couldn't "complain a bit," entered the third 18-hole session of the big 72-hole show with a two-stroke lead over Harold (Jug) McSpaden, defending champion, and lanky Vic Ghezzi, the Camp Grant, Ill., army sergeant.

Nelson, pre-tourney favorite, yesterday shot a 70, two under par, to land out front—just where most of those enthusiastic links devotees who swarm around Tam O'Shanter's course by the thousands figure he'll become Sunday when the firing is over.

SIX UNDER PAR.

Nelson's 70 and his opening 68 gave him a six-under-par 138 for the first 36 holes. McSpaden, leading money-winner this season, and Ghezzi added 69s to their first round 71s.

Ed Dudley, the Professional Golfers' association president, doesn't minimize Nelson's chances, but he warns that "in a tournament like this anybody 10 strokes behind at 36 holes may come home winner."

Henry Piccard, who has appeared in only two tournaments since 1942, paid little attention to par as he swept into a third place tie with Felix Serafin of Pittston, Pa. Picard, busy in a war plant last year, smashed out a 66, six under par, for a 141 total.

Johnny Bulla, the air lines pilot who topped the field with a 65 for the first 18, slipped into a tail-spin yesterday and didn't come out of it until he had used up 79 strokes, 14 off his opening round. He landed in an eight-way tie at 144.

PRO CHAMPION SLIPS.

Another disappointment was the performance of Bob Hamilton, the new P. G. A. champion, who soared to an 80 after an opening 73.

Bud Williamson, Lincoln, Neb., Country club pro, clipped off a par-72 to add to his previous day's 71 and thus was in a tie for fifth place.

Betty Hicks, the little champion from Long Beach, Calif., shot her second 78 to pace the women's section with a 156 total and Ken Heilemann of St. Louis led the amateurs with 70-72—142.

Breaks To Redskins

Pros Won From Fliers, 7-3, But Schissler's Gridmen Outplayed the Opposition.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 26—(AP)—The fourth air force of March Field, Cal., made and took advantage of all the breaks but the last one as it lost the opening major football game of 1944 before 50,000 fans in Memorial coliseum last night. The ponderous Washington Redskins came up with a 7 to 3 victory.

The Army Fliers, expertly coached by Maj. Paul Schissler and in tip top physical trim, had the better of everything but the final score. They outplayed the National leaguers for three full periods despite the ever-dangerous passes of Slingin' Sammy Baugh and the sensational running of Steve Bagarus, once of Notre Dame,

But in the fourth period, Indian Jack Jacobs fired a quick and hard pass to his right. Mike Micka of the Redskins intercepted it, fumbled it, picked it up and ran 21 yards to a touchdown. Joe Aguirre, ex-St. Mary's, added the extra point.

Touchdown Disallowed.

The Fliers weren't on their toes with that play. They were playing the second half under professional rules after the first two periods under the college system. It was under college rules, however, that March Field lost a touchdown of its own. In the second period, Bill Dudley, a great star at the University of Virginia a few years back, tossed a sharp pass to Ray Smith, ex-St. Mary's. It was good for 33 yards across the Washington goal, but the officials nullified it, ruling that Dudley was not five yards behind the scrimmage line.

Smith Kicks Goal.

Big Ernie Smith, who played at the University of Southern California a decade ago, contributed the Filers' three points. He kicked a placement in the second period from the 12-yard mark after the Army had advanced to the seven.

The proceeds, aside from the $12,500 chunk taken by the Redskins, went for recreational facilities to U. S. armed forces in the South Pacific.

Film Star Bride of Harmon

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Aug. 26—(INS)—Screen Starlet Elyse Knox today became the bride of Lt. Thomas Harmon in a ceremony performed by the Rev. Fr. Frank J. McPhillips in St. Mary's student chapel on the University of Michigan campus.

The bride's gown was made of the parachute which saved Harmon's life when he bailed out after his plane was shot down over Kiukiang, China, last November 5. Made with a full shirred skirt and long sleeves, the gown's only trimming was the silk cord from the 'chute rigging.

Best man for the former All-American halfback at Michigan was his brother, H. F. Harmon of Akron, O. A former teammate, Lieut. Forrest Evashevski, now stationed in Florida, acted as head usher.

Immediately after the ceremony, the bridal couple left for Van Nuys, Calif., where Harmon is stationed.

Miss Knox formerly was married to Paul Hesse, Hollywood photographer. It was Harmon's first marriage.

Record Crowd Sees Orioles' Twin Win

BALTIMORE, Aug. 26—(AP)—A throng of 20,642 turned out last night and watched the Baltimore Orioles down the Newark Bears twice and regain the International league leadership. The crowd was 5,000 larger than any previous Baltimore baseball crowd and was some 9,000 greater than could have been seated in Oriole Park, which burned July 4.

The twin bill was played in the Municipal stadium, with a capacity of 76,000.

One of the candidates for the Illinois football team is Art Moynihan, a back, who was a member of the freshman squad at Chicago U. in 1939.

New King Of Traps

Leslie Jepsen of Illinois Bobs Up As Winner of Grand American Shoot.

VANDALIA, O., Aug. 26—(AP)—A 45-year-old Dwight, Ill., electrician who was so nervous at the finish he couldn't remember his own age, reigned today as the Grand American Handicap trapshoot king.

The winner of that most prized trapshooting crown was Leslie C. Jepsen. He, Mrs. Van Marker of Evanston, Ill., and F. E. Shaw of Joliet, Ill., gave Illinois three of the seven top trapshooting crowns in the forty-fifth annual Grand American trapshoot tournament, completed here yesterday.

Jepsen broke 97x100 to win the Grand American Handicap. Mrs. Marker broke 90x100 for high score among the women. Shaw won the men's preliminary handicap Thursday.

Jepsen's victory in the "Grand" made him the forty-fifth different champion in the 45 years the event has been contested. No person ever has won it twice and never has a big name shooter grabbed off the crown.

With Borrowed Gun.

The gun Jepsen used was borrowed from a friend because he broke his own two years ago. He had fired at only 150 targets in the 14 months preceding the 200 he shot here.

The other major title yesterday went to Lt. Vic Reinders of Waukesha, Wis., and Brooks Field, Tex. The husky Reinders, who rates as one of the nation's top trapshooters, won the all-around championship after a shoot-off with J. K. Stark of San Antonio, Tex. They had tied with 382x400, but when the chips were down, Reinders broke 40 straight targets while Stark missed five.

Foxx Now Manager In Minors

CHICAGO, Aug. 26—(AP)—Two veteran major league ball players have finished their 1944 season with the Chicago Cubs.

Jimmy Foxx, one-time American league home run leader and batting champion, left the Cubs coaching lines today to become manager of the Portsmouth, Va., club, a Cub affiliate, for the remainder of the season. He will fill in for Bill Steinecke, who is to join the New York Yankees.

Outfielder Ival Goodman, who was injured in a game at St. Louis Wednesday when he ran into a wall, wil be unable to play any more this season.

There are a lot of old men playing major league baseball, but Joe Heving, Cleveland pitcher, is the only grandfather.

Pacific Coast League.

Los Angeles, 5; Hollywood, 0.
Seattle, 6; San Diego, 0.
San Francisco, 1; Oakland, 0.
Sacramento, 4; Portland, 2.

Hits 20 Mark

No Series This Fall In Chicago

CHICAGO, Aug. 26—(AP)—There'll be no Chicago city baseball series this fall between the Cubs and White Sox.

For the second consecutive year, the National league team will not challenge the Sox, Manager Charlie Grimm announcing that many of his players are injured and also they desired to return home at the end of the regular season.

Notre Dame has a young fullback from Reitz Memorial high in Evansville, Ind., which turned out Billy Hillenbrand of Indiana and Tommy McGannon of Purdue. His name is Frank Endress and the word is that he is every bit as good as the stars before him.

Another Life Lost

New Jersey Ring Racket Claims Second Victim In Death of Thomas Schenk.

BY LAWTON CARVER.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25—(INS)—Unless, by mischance, you have happened under one of boxing's leaky roofs on an off night, it is most probable you never have heard of Thomas Schenk. He died Wednesday night in a New Jersey hospital, the victim of a head blow, and although he was described as a boxer, his career began and ended in the darkness of obscurity, for he is not ascribed even the few terse lines usually given to second-rate pugs in the bible of boxing, Nat Fleischer's "All-Time Ring Record" Book.

Thomas Schenk was 34 years old and was training for a comeback. It is difficult to imagine what Schenk could have determined to go back to, having, apparently, never gained much more than a few sous and a faint grasp of glory in what may be described as his ring career, but he was in training for a six-rounder at the Queensboro arena and his life was snuffed out when a sparring mate connected.

Second Jersey Victim.

The death of Thomas Schenk probably never would have reached across the river to find itself described in a few lines of agate in New York newspapers had not Schenk been the second fighter to die of head injuries in the very same state within a matter of three weeks.

Lew Franklin, a heavyweight on the way down, was killed off in a fight with an obscurity named Larry Lane. Franklin's sickening crash to the canvas, his removal to a hospital and his rather prolonged fight against cerebral injuries, complicated by double pneumonia, were given a great deal of space in sports pages, but Schenk's was more of an erasure than an obituary—he was wiped off the slate, and few in the boxing game mourn his loss. He was, you see, unknown.

Psychiatrist Proposed.

A move to install a psychiatrist on boxing boards would, no doubt, be humane, but it also would be very unpopular with the fighting folk. If immediate exams were set up on a mental basis, half the fighters we now see would be barred for life. Known or unknown, Schenk was a fighter, albeit it must be presumed he was not a great one, and his death could have been prevented.

Softball At Muny Stymied

Softball activities on Muny Field diamonds were stymied again Friday night, after a persistent all-day downpour, and a Saturday morning survey by Recreation Director Lewis brought forth the announcement that the program for tonight also had been cancelled.

The director and his associates were in conference today discussing a status that has brought five successive program postponements. The matter up for consideration at the pow-wow involved the possibility that it may be necessary to change the tournament plan to one of single elimination of contending teams, rather than the double-elimination system as originally drafted. If the "one defeat and out" scheme is adopted, the tourney will have its windup during next week.

Meantime, the Lincoln Army Air Field Wings were hopeful Saturday that weather conditions may so improve as to permit the playing of the Wings vs. Fairmont air base Sunday evening at 6 o'clock.

Rain Persists In Balking Semi-Pros

WICHITA, Kas., Aug. 26—(AP)—It was "no games, rain" again last night in the national semi-pro baseball tournament.

Tonight's feature attraction brings together the meet's only unbeaten teams, the Sherman Field Flyers of Ft. Leavenworth, Kas., and the Cessna Bobcats of Wichita. Each has won four games.

No Racing Friday On Fair Oval

Horse racing Friday at the state fair track was a complete wash-out—and in more ways than one. Net result: Cancellation of the afternoon card, along with announcement by the meet management that a new card was drafted for Saturday afternoon and that, rain or shine, no intereference will pertain on any future date of the meeting.

The jockeys were present Friday with another display of temperament, refusing to get into their saddles unless special compensation was coming on account of the downpour and resultant sloppy racing strip.

This set up the pins for possible punishment of the riders, via suspensions from racing on Nebraska tracks, but a peace was patched when the balky ones agreed to go today and every other day until the Sept. 9 windup of the meet.

Pennant Tucked In Card Bag

CHICAGO, Aug. 26—(INS)—Baseball Commissioner K. M. Landis has awarded the National league pennant to the St. Louis Cardinals in a left-handed sort of way, it was revealed today.

Judge Landis announced he has invited officials of the Cards to attend a meeting in Chicago Monday to make plans for the world series.

The Cards, currently leading their league by 19 games, were the only National league team invited.

In the American league, where but 17½ games separate the tail-end Washington Senators and the leading St. Louis Browns, the four top teams were invited. They were the Browns, New York Yankees, Boston Red Sox and Detroit Tigers. Boston and Detroit are in a tie for third place, five games back of the Browns and a half-game back of the Yanks.

West Coast Youth Worry To Champion

SOUTHAMPTON, N. Y., Aug. 26—(AP)—He's been eliminated from the Meadow club's annual tennis tournament, but all the talk today was about Jack Jossi, young Californian.

Jossi, little known among eastern tennis followers, forced Navy Lt. Don McNeill, 1940 national champion, to the utmost yesterday before bowing out, 6-3, 5-7, 8-6. He ended the second game of the opening set with a pair of service aces that were so fast McNeill didn't have time to move his racket.

McNeill was the only one of the seeded stars to experience trouble. Pancho Segura of Ecuador ousted Sidney B. Wood of Southampton, 6-3, 6-1, and Bill Talbert of Indianapolis trimmed Charles Oliver of Perth Amboy, N. J., 6-2, 6-4. Lt. Seymour Greenberg of Chicago meets Armando Vega of Mexico City in the other quarter-final match.
